BRIEF REVIEW OF THE BATTLE NEWS

The staggering defeat administered to the Germans on the Flanders front last Monday by Anglo-French forces is still making itself felt.

Von Hindenburg has not yet been able to renew his drive, but there is a growing violence of artillery fire over a wide area from Giverny, immediately north of La Bassée Canal to a point south of Ypres, where Monday's fighting centered.

Nor have the Germans been able to renew their thrusts on the Picardy front.

There was local fighting around Villers-Bretonneux, nine miles east of Amiens, during the night which ended to the advantage of the British, enabling them to improve their positions.

Violent artillery duels have raged north and south of the Aisne river (Picardy front) near which district Americans are holding part of the battle line.

The Germans are reported to be massing fresh troops and it is accepted as a foregone conclusion by French military critics that the end of the struggle is not yet in sight.

While the Germans have been reorganizing their shattered divisions and bombarding General Foch has been active, strengthening his positions around Amiens, Arras and Ypres, and moving reserves to strategic points. No matter where the next German thrusts fall the Boches will find the Allied forces ready to meet them and give them the blow for blow.

This was the 44th day of the grand German offensive.

14 ORDERED TO GO TO FORT SLOCUM MAY 11 OVER THE TOP ON LIBERTY LOAN

Divisions No. 1 and 2 Will Each Furnish Seven Men For National Army on That Date—First Who Go to Slocum.

Orders were received by the local boards for Divisions No. 1 and 2 this morning from the adjutant general, directing them to entrain seven men from each division at this city on Saturday, May 11, for military service in the National Army at Fort Slocum.

In addition to the seven men from each of the two divisions, Greene county will send seven men at the same time and on the same train, and Rockland county will furnish six men.

The boys from Divisions No. 1 and 2 will entrain at the West Shore station at 8:55 a. m., and will reach New Rochelle at 1:49 o'clock that afternoon.

500 MEN WANTED FOR MECHANICAL LINES

The adjutant general has notified the local exemption boards of Induction Call No. 203, which calls for the entrainment for University Heights, New York city, of 500 grammar school graduates who have had some experience along mechanical lines, and some aptitude for mechanical work, to report to the commanding officer at New York University, on May 16. Only white men and men physically qualified for general military service may be inducted under this call.

The registrants selected for this service will receive a course of training at government expense fitting them to serve in army positions, requiring knowledge of gas engines, radio, concrete work, blacksmithing, carpentry and other mechanical duties incident to many kinds of military service both at the front and behind the lines. They will receive thorough instruction which will be of great personal value in working their way ahead both in the army and civil life.

This is an exceptional opportunity for energetic and ambitious men. Qualified registrants should present themselves for voluntary induction, and local boards must verify the adjutant general on Monday, May 6, the number of applicants. It may not be possible for the adjutant general to accept the full number of applicants, so that men might not be given up their employment. The call will close on or before May 8th.

White men only who have completed at least a grammar school education and who have had some experience along mechanical lines and some aptitude for mechanical work should apply.

Each man must carry with him at least two suits of underclothing, one suit of outer clothing in good condition, a sweater, a stout pair of shoes, three extra pairs of socks and two bath towels, as he will be kept in civilian clothes during the first three weeks until he can be supplied with a uniform and other clothing.

GERMANS LOST FOUR-FIFTHS.
German Red Cross Attache Tells of Heavy Casualties.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, May 3.—(9 p. m.)—The Germans in their big attack against the Americans at Seicheprey on the Toul front lost four-fifths of their numbers, it was learned from a German Red Cross attache who had been captured by an American patrol.

The German had assisted in caring for the casualties and was in a position to give correct information.

The conditions on the Toul front have been extremely inactive, less than 200 shells being fired by the Boches in the past two days.

The battle of Seicheprey took place on Saturday, April 20, when 1,200 German shock troops attacked the Americans. The Germans fought their way into Seicheprey but were driven back to their original positions.

WHY BAKER WANTS $15,000,000,000

What Has Been Done Toward Putting An Army in the Field And the Things it is Planned to do.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, May 3.—When he left the committee room, Secretary Baker said he had nothing to add to his statement yesterday.

"I told them all I wanted the newspapers to know," he added. He admitted, however, that the total of estimates submitted would be near $15,000,000,000.

The total to be appropriated for the ordnance and quartermaster corps will be in the neighborhood of $11,000,000,000; for the signal corps something over $1,000,000,000, and for the engineer corps $1,000,000,000. The major part of the engineering appropriation will be used for the construction of training facilities and railroads abroad.

The intention of the war department to train men in this country more speedily and to train more men abroad was emphasized by Secretary Baker. The National Guard contingents probably will be turned into permanent contingents, he indicated, and the present contingents will be extended, but under present plans no new ones will be built.

Secretary Baker stated to the committee his unalterable opposition to raising the draft age to 40 at this time. His position is grounded on the assertion that "it would interfere with necessary industries to take these men." He indicated at the same time his intention, if possible, to confine the drafts to be made during the next twelve months to the men now listed in class 1 and the additional 500,000 that will be available under the bill to register all who have become 21 since June 5 last. If this policy is carried through, class 1 will be exhausted in raising the armies contemplated by the authorizations being asked by Secretary Baker.

Asked by members of the committee whether the aeroplane program had, in fact, been an utter failure, Secretary Baker said:

"It has not. There have been some mistakes and delays but they are not nearly as bad as reported. This is shown by the fact that the Italians, English and French are anxious to have the Liberty machines."

The United States now has under arms 1,700,000 men and 120,000 officers, it was brought out in the hearing. This number will be increased to 2,168,000 men and 130,000 officers by July 1 this year, making a total of 2,298,000 men in the army by that date.

With the call for 250,000 men new being prepared by the provost marshal general, it is evident that 228,000 additional men will be required during the month of June, if the war department estimates are to be fulfilled.

From $500,000,000 to $600,000,000 of the estimates submitted by Secretary Baker will be used as deficiency appropriations. The war department has gone far ahead of its program, mapped out a year ago, and had a bill will be required to carry the indebtedness up to July 1 of this year.

BUY LIBERTY BONDS, SAYS CONGRESSMAN

Congressman Ward Urges Kingston Opera House Audience to Protect America Against German Atrocities Here by Investing in Bonds.

Congressman Charles B. Ward of Liberty, spent Thursday afternoon and evening and today in town, and on Thursday evening spoke at the Kingston opera house in support of the Third Liberty Loan, earnestly urging his hearers to buy Liberty Bonds as a government insurance against German barbarity.

Congressman Ward was accompanied by County Chairman Philip Elting of the Republican County Committee, and Mayor Canfield. He is too well known to Ulster county and Kingston city, which he has served most efficiently as congressman, to need any introduction, and he was accorded a warm welcome by the audience which applauded his remarks vigorously.

He said:

"I came here direct from Washington with a message from headquarters concerning the Third Liberty Loan.

"It is not the time now to discuss why we are in this world war, suffice it to say that we did not start this war and the world knows our boys are going to end it. But our boys must have the backing, the whole-hearted and unreserved support in every way from those of us who stay at home. We can help win the war by buying Liberty Bonds.

"Every citizen of the United States who buys a Liberty Bond registers his approval of our defending ourselves against our enemies.

"Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond testifies to his love of country.

"Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond contributes toward victory.

"The war cannot be prosecuted without adequate and increasing financial support from the body of the people. Without such support we will be a discredited and defeated nation.

"If our men can afford to surrender their lives in this great struggle of human freedom, they have the right to ask us who stay at home whilst they carry aloft the banner of liberty on the battle fields of Europe, that we do not desert them by withholding the financial support which they cannot continue the struggle.

"You should consider these Liberty Bonds as life insurance for yourself and your family. We are in the greatest war the world has ever known and we are in it to make the world safe for democracy. In a world safe for democracy, you and your wife and children, your sister and your mother can go about the daily occupation unafraid of insult and disgrace and slavery. In a world unsafe for democracy you may be forced to see your loved ones, the women and children of your household ravished and tormented as were the women and children of northern France.

"Germany calls us a nation of dollar chasers. Let us joyfully accept the title and chase so many dollars across the ocean that Kaiserism and all it stands for will be crushed beneath the metal avalanche.

"If the enemy were thundering at our gates you and I would gladly give the government our last penny in repelling him and in thus saving our homes from destruction, our families from slavery. The Liberty Loan is going to prevent the enemy from thundering at our gates; from getting to our country and destroying our defenseless population, and that's why it is the best life insurance policy in the world.

"This is the crucial year of the war. Our soldiers are at the front, hundreds of thousands of them in the trenches and a million more ready to go. The whole burden of carrying on our part in the war and of aiding our sister nations in arms falls on the United States treasury. If the treasury fails or falters or finds itself unable to respond to every call upon it, the war is lost. Do you realize that?

"Your son and all the nations' sons are relying on the United States treasury to furnish things with which they may fight. Their lives are lost if the treasury fails. Our country is lost if the treasury fails. Germany wins if the treasury fails. Therefore, every cent you can rake and scrape together belongs to the treasury that our soldiers may come back to us alive and victorious.

"The government asks you to perform a patriotic duty and by Liberty Bonds, the safest and best investment in the world. This money must be raised. If the bonds are not sold, then the government will have to levy taxes. Taxes once paid are never returned. If the money is not provided for the prosecution of the war, we will not be victorious. That would mean paying an indemnity the size of which no one can predict. Your own imagination can supply what the term, German victory, suggests.

"YOU WILL BUY BONDS, AND OUR COUNTRY WILL WIN THE WAR!"

HICKEY ENJOYED VOYAGE TO FRANCE

Michael J. Hickey of No. 14 East Union street, has received the following letter from his son, John J. Hickey, who is in the service somewhere in France:

March 3rd, 1918.

Dear Father—Just a few lines to let you know that I have arrived safely in France, that I am well and trust to hear the same from home.

We had a most wonderful trip across the big drink of water. Why, we had plenty of music and all kinds of cats with plenty of sleep. We had boxing matches nearly every day. Washington's Birthday we had a dinner on board our ship that I don't think the best hotel in New York could serve as good. It looked on board ship that day that it was Christmas.

We passed some very pretty places on our way in port. Besides France is a very pretty place as far as I seen of it and I didn't see very much of it. Say, pop, how is your leg getting along? I hope it's all well and able to walk as good as ever. I will close, pop, because I cannot write very much, but you write me a long letter. My regards to you and brother.

I remain your loving son,

JOHN J. HICKEY.

Tuesday's Contingent Which Went to Camp Dix Expresses Its Appreciation of Every Care and Comfort and Their Send-off.

Howard M. Aliton, who had charge of the detail from Division No. 1 which left town Tuesday for Camp Dix, N. J., has written to Captain Hornbeck, chairman of the local board, of the safe arrival of the boys in camp. He writes:

"We arrived safe and all in good shape, everybody enjoying himself throughout the trip.

"We wish to thank each member of the board for their kindness toward us and the way in which they helped each and every one of us.

"We wish also to thank the Red Cross for the knitted goods which I know everyone will enjoy and which will be appreciated in camp life as the articles are very useful.

"Also we wish to thank the Home Defense Committee for the comfort kits which we have found to be very useful even in the short time we have been here.

"We thank the citizens of Kingston and Ulster county for the great send-off they gave us. Every one of the boys has spoken about it and agreed that it was the best they ever had witnessed.

"Very truly yours,

Atlanta, Ga., May 3.—One of the team captains in the Liberty Loan campaign this week was canvassing a company at Camp Gordon and paused to interview a private who was washing dishes in the kitchen.

"You ought to be able to handle a fifty-dollar bond at least," he insisted. The commander will arrange to hold small payments out of your pay, and you'll have a bit of a nest-egg when you get back from France. How about taking your subscription?"

"I'd rather draw all my pay, thank you," he said. "I may need it. But you may put me down for bonds to that amount," he added, handing a check to the captain.

The check was for $10,000. The private was W. J. Etherington, of Pennsylvania, who owns a controlling interest in one of the big coal companies. He subscribed $50,000 to each of the former bond issues and had taken an equal amount in the third issue through his home bank.

14 ORDERED TO GO TO FORT SLOCUM MAY 11

Divisions No. 1 and 2 Will Each Furnish Seven Men For National Army on That Date—First Who Go to Slocum.

Orders were received by the local boards for Divisions No. 1 and 2 this morning from the adjutant general, directing them to entrain seven men from each division at this city on Saturday, May 11, for military service in the National Army at Fort Slocum.

In addition to the seven men from each of the two divisions, Greene county will send seven men at the same time and on the same train, and Rockland county will furnish six men.

The boys from Divisions No. 1 and 2 will entrain at the West Shore station at 8:55 a. m., and will reach New Rochelle at 1:40 o'clock that afternoon.

500 MEN WANTED FOR MECHANICAL LINES

The adjutant general has notified the local exemption boards of Instruction Call No. 204, which calls for the enrollment for University Heights. New York city of 500 grammar school graduates who have had some experience along mechanical lines and some aptitude for mechanical work, to report to the commanding officer at New York University on May 16. Only white men and men physically qualified for general military service may be inducted under this call.

The registrants selected for this service will receive a course of training at government expense, fitting them to serve in army positions, requiring knowledge of gas engines, radio, concrete work, blacksmithing, carpentry and other mechanical duties incident to many kinds of military service both at the front and behind the lines. They will receive thorough instruction which will be of great personal value in working their way ahead both in the army and civil life. This is an exceptional opportunity for energetic and ambitious men.

Qualified registrants should present themselves for voluntary induction, and local boards must wire the adjutant general on May 8, the number of applicants. It may not be possible for the adjutant general to accept the full number of applicants, so that men ought not to give up their employment. The call will close on or before May 8th.

White men only who have completed at least a grammar school education and who have had some experience along mechanical lines and some aptitude for mechanical work should apply.

Each man must carry with him at least two suits of underclothing, a suit of outer clothing in good condition, a sweater, a stout pair of shoes, three extra pairs of socks and two bath towels, as he will be kept in civilian clothes during the first three weeks until he can be supplied with a uniform and other clothing.

Kingston has gone over the top in the Third Liberty Loan drive, according to the announcement made by the local Liberty Loan Committee. Just how much the city has exceeded its quota was not made public. Kingston's quota is $1,106,000.

GOVERNMENT WANTS CAMERA REPAIR MEN

New York state is still short of men on its quota for this week for camera repair men. Inducted men are forwarded at the rate of 12 a week and the adjutant general has notified the local exemption boards of the number of men required.

The call of the government is a most desirable one, as accepted applicants are sent to Cornell University, at Ithaca, N. Y., for their course of training.

HEAVY FIGHTING EXPECTED ON PIAVE

By Telegram to The Freeman. London, May 3.—Correspondents with the Italian army on the southwestern battle front predict heavy fighting along the Piave river.

It is believed that the Germans will insist upon an Austro-Hungarian offensive against the Italians in an effort to relieve the pressure against the Germans on the western front and to prevent the further sending of Italian forces into France.

Some correspondents corroborate a report printed by the Berlin newspaper Deutsche Tageszeitung that the Germans may abandon their offensive in Flanders and transfer the drive to Italy.

From more than one German source the news has come out that the German people are quickly losing hope of winning on the western front and that they are deeply depressed by their severe losses. German newspapers are taking a pessimistic tone and their comment is far different from their buoyant attitude when the drive started in March.

By working all night tonight the provost marshal general believed the call, which will be for approximately 250,000 men, could be issued tomorrow. While Secretary Baker denied yesterday that he had given the military affairs committee any figures or estimates, members said today that he had in fact furnished them with information on the number of men and the amounts of money that would be required.

GERMANS LOST FOUR-FIFTHS.

German Red Cross Attache Tells of Heavy Casualties.

By Telegram to The Freeman. With the American Army in France, May 2.—(9 p. m.)—The Germans in their big attack against the Americans at Seicheprey on the Toul front lost four-fifths of their numbers. It was learned from a German Red Cross attache who had been captured by an American patrol.

The German had assisted in caring for the casualties and was in a position to give correct information.

The conditions on the Toul front have been extremely inactive, less than 200 shells being fired by the Boches in the past two days.

The battle of Seicheprey took place on Saturday, April 20, when 1,200 German stock troops attacked the Americans. The Germans fought their way into Seicheprey but were driven back to their original positions.

WHY BAKER WANTS $15,000,000,000

What Has Been Done Toward Putting An Army in the Field and the Things it is Planned to do.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Washington, May 3.—When he left the committee room, Secretary Baker said he had nothing to add to his statement yesterday.

"I told them all I wanted the newspapers to know," he added. He admitted, however, that the total of estimates submitted would be near $15,000,000,000.

The total to be appropriated for the ordnance and quartermaster corps will be in the neighborhood of $11,000,000,000; for the signal corps something over $1,000,000,000, and for the engineer corps $1,000,000,000. The major part of the engineering appropriation will be used for the construction of training facilities and railroads abroad.

The intention of the war department to train men in this country more speedily and to train more men abroad was emphasized by Secretary Baker. The National Guard cantonments probably will be turned into permanent cantonments, he indicated, and the present cantonments will be extended, but under present plans no new ones will be built.

Secretary Baker stated to the committee his unalterable opposition to raising the draft age to 40 at this time. His position is grounded on the assertion that "it would interfere with necessary industries to take these men." He indicated at the same time his intention, if possible, to confine the drafts to be made during the next twelve months to the men now listed in class 1 and the additional 500,000 that will be available under the bill to register all who have become 21 since June 5 last.

If this policy is carried through, class 1 will be exhausted in routing the armies contemplated by the authorizations being asked by Secretary Baker.

Asked by members of the committee whether the aeroplane program had, in fact, been an utter failure, Secretary Baker said:

"It has not. There have been some mistakes and delays but they are not nearly as bad as reported. This is shown by the fact that the Italians, English and French are anxious to have the Liberty machines."

The United States now has under arms 1,000,000 men, 100,000 officers. It was brought out in the hearing that this number will be increased to 2,168,000 men and 120,000 officers by July 1 this year, making a total of 2,288,000 men in the army by that date.

With the call for 250,000 men now being prepared by the provost marshal general, it is evident that 238,000 additional men will be required during the month of June. If the war department estimates are to be fulfilled.

From $500,000,000 to $600,000,000 of the estimates submitted by Secretary Baker will be used as deficiency appropriations. The war department has gone far ahead of its program, mapped out a year ago, and half a billion will be required to cancel its indebtedness up to July 1 of this year.

BUY LIBERTY BONDS, SAYS CONGRESSMAN

Congressman Ward Urges Kingston Opera House Audience to Protect America Against German Atrocities Here, by Investing in Bonds.

Congressman Charles B. Ward of Liberty, spent Thursday afternoon and evening and today in town, and on Thursday evening spoke at the Kingston opera house in support of the Third Liberty Loan, earnestly urging his hearers to buy Liberty Bonds as a government insurance against German barbarity.

Congressman Ward was accompanied by County Chairman Philip Eiting of the Republican County Committee, and Mayor Canfield. He is too well known to Ulster county and Kingston city, which he has served most efficiently as congressman, to need any introduction, and he was accorded a warm welcome by the audience which applauded his remarks vigorously.

He said: "I came here direct from Washington with a message from headquarters, concerning the Third Liberty Loan."

"It is not the time now to discuss why we are in this world war, suffice it to say that we did not start this war and the world knows our boys are going to end it. But our boys must have the backing, the whole-hearted and unreserved support in every way from those of us who stay at home. We can help win the war by buying Liberty Bonds."

"Every citizen of the United States who buys a Liberty Bond registers his approval of our defending ourselves against our enemies."

"Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond testifies to his love of country. Every citizen who buys a Liberty Bond contributes toward victory."

"The war cannot be prosecuted without adequate and increasing financial support from the body of the people. Without such support we will be a discredited and defeated nation."

"If our men can afford to surrender their lives in this great struggle of human freedom, they have the right to ask us who stay at home whether they carry aloft the banner of Liberty on the battle fields of Europe, that we do not desert them by withholding the financial support without which they cannot continue the struggle."

"You should consider these Liberty Bonds as life insurance for yourself and your family. We are in the greatest war the world has ever known and we are in it to make the world safe for democracy. In a world safe for democracy, you and your wife and children, your sister and your mother can go about the daily occupation unafraid of insult and disgrace and slavery. In a world unsafe for democracy you may be forced to see your loved ones, the women and children of your household ravished and tormented as were the women and children of northern France."

"Germany calls us a nation of dollar chasers. Let us joyfully accept the title and chase so many dollars across the ocean that Kaiserism and all it stands for will be crushed beneath the metal avalanche."

"If the enemy were thundering at our gates you and I would gladly give the government our last penny in repelling him and in thus saving our homes from destruction, our families from slavery. The Liberty Loan is going to prevent the enemy from thundering at our gates; from getting to our country and destroying our defenseless population, and that's why it is the best life insurance policy in the world."

"This is the crucial year of the war. Our soldiers are at the front, hundreds of thousands of them in the trenches and a million more ready to go. The whole burden of carrying on our part in the war and of aiding our sister nations in arms rests on the United States treasury. If the treasury fails or falters or finds itself unable to respond to every call upon it, the war is lost. Do you realize that?"

"Your son and all the nation's sons are relying on the United States treasury to furnish things with which they may fight. Their lives are lost if the treasury fails. Our country is lost if the treasury fails. Germany wins if the treasury fails. Therefore, every cent you can rake and scrape together belongs to the treasury that our soldiers may come back to us alive and victorious."

"The government asks you to perform a patriotic duty and by Liberty Bonds, the safest and best investment in the world. This money may be raised. If the bonds are not sold, then the government will have to levy taxes. Taxes once paid are never returned. If the money is not provided for the prosecution of the war, we will not be victorious. That would mean paying an indemnity the size of which no one can predict. Your own imagination can supply what they may fight. Their lives are lost if the treasury fails. Our country is lost if the treasury fails. Germany wins if the treasury fails. Therefore, every cent you can rake and scrape together belongs to the treasury that our soldiers may come back to us alive and victorious."

"The check was for $10,000. The private was W. J. Phierington, of Pennsylvania, who owns a controlling interest in one of the big coal companies. He subscribed $50,000 to each of the former bond issues and had taken an equal amount in the third issue through his home bank."

Ready to Die Right There.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Indianapolis, Ind., May 3.—His life had been spent in the backwoods of Kentucky, in the land of moonshine and feuds. He was long and lean of form, and he wore the khaki in a manner that betokened a new recruit. His countenance registered wonderment as he gazed upon the tall buildings and strange sights of the Hoosier metropolis. He was one of the Kentucky soldiers sent here for training, and the city's novelties held him in rapt attention until now. It was the first army meal for the draftees and the chefs had done themselves proud. The lank mountaineer ate and ate until the board was cleared. Then he stretched his angular frame and sighed:

"Boys, if this beef is onah abany life ah wants to fight and died right heah!"

Exempt Firemen Have Banquet.

A tempting banquet, informal speeches by Mayor Canfield, Joseph J. Tubby and others, and a general spirit of good fellowship were the features of the meeting held Thursday night at the Central fire station, by the Exempt Firemen's Association. Claude J. Conway was elected to membership.

HICKEY ENJOYED VOYAGE TO FRANCE

Michael J. Hickey of No. 14 East Union street, has received the following letter from his son, John J. Hickey, who is in the service somewhere in France:

March 3rd, 1918.

Dear Father:—Just a few lines to let you know that I have arrived safely in France, that I am well and trust to hear the same from home.

We had a most wonderful trip across the big drink of water. Why, we had plenty of music and all kinds of cats with plenty of sleep. We had boxing matches nearly every day. Washington's Birthday we had a dinner on board our ship that I don't think the best hotel in New York could serve as good. It looked on board ship that day that it was Christmas.

We passed some very pretty places on our way in port. Besides France is a very pretty place as far as I seen of it and I didn't see very much of it. Say, pop, how is your leg getting along? I hope it's all well and able to walk as good as ever. I will close, pop, because I cannot write very much, but you write me a long letter. My regards to you and brother.

I remain your loving son.

"We arrived safe and all in good shape, everybody enjoying himself throughout the trip."

"We wish to thank each member of the board for the kindness toward us and the way in which they helped each and every one of us."

"We wish also to thank the Red Cross for the knitted goods which I know everyone will enjoy and which will be appreciated in camp."

"Also we wish to thank the Home Defense Committee for the comfort kits which we have found to be very useful even in the short time we have been here."

"We thank the citizens of Kingston and Ulster county for the great send-off they gave us. Every one of the boys has spoken about it and agreed that it was the best they ever had witnessed."

"Very truly yours,

"H. M. ALITON."

But Had $10,000 to Invest in Liberty Bonds.

By Telegram to The Freeman. Atlanta, Ga., May 3.—One of the town, captains in the Liberty Loan campaign this week was canvassing a company at Camp Gordon and paused to interview a private who was washing dishes in the kitchen.

"You ought to be able to handle a fifty-dollar bond at least," he insisted. The commander will arrange to hold small payments out of your pay, and you'll have a bit of a nest-egg when you get back from France. How about taking your subscription?"

"I'd rather draw all my pay, thank you," he

"Call 203 hereby announced. Qualifications and opportunities the same as call 196. White, grammar school graduates with mechanical training, and qualified for general military service, are eligible. The call closes May 8."

This call offers an opportunity of young white men within draft age eligible for general military service, a splendid chance to learn various mechanical trades in the government school at Rochester. UNCLE SAM NEEDS MORE MECHANICS

Splendid Opportunity for Grammar School Graduates With Mechanical Skill to Go to Government School For Military Training.

Local Board of Division 1 of Ulster county has received the following telegram from the adjutant general:

"Call 203 hereby announced. Qualifications and opportunities the same as call 196. White, grammar school graduates with mechanical training, and qualified for general military service, are eligible. The call closes May 8."

This call offers an opportunity of young white men within draft age eligible for general military service, a splendid chance to learn various mechanical trades in the government school at Rochester. The young men must have completed at least the eighth grade of a grammar school education, and have some mechanical experience and ability.

For the first three weeks after entering the school the men will be kept in civilian clothes, so each man must bring with him two suits of underclothes, one suit of outer clothing in good condition, a stout pair of shoes, three extra pairs of socks, and two bath towels.

The course of instruction at the school will last for two months. Automobile driving, carpentry, blacksmithing and many other mechanical lines will be taught.

When the men complete their course of instruction they will be assigned to military duty along mechanical lines. There are splendid opportunities for military service along these lines, both on the firing line, and behind the line.

Young men eligible to this call should leave their names with the officials of Local Board 1, in the surrogate's court building.

KINGSTON, N. Y., MAY 3, 1918.

Nobody ever has accurately determined the cost of any war in dollars and cents. We can estimate the cost of money borrowed by any nation for war purposes and the interest paid for such loans; after a few figures on which to base computations most mathematicians calculate the remainder. We know what is the average value of human life, and by approximating the number of lives destroyed we can reach an estimate of that kind of loss. We also can estimate the value of property destroyed. We cannot estimate correctly the value of the time taken from pursuits which produce wealth and devoted to various war purposes, but we know it amounts to figures of vast proportions, so that when we consider the cost of war we turn naturally to the causes of war and place the responsibility fairly and squarely. If war can be prevented, it is a wise investment to spend money on preventive measures. In the case of the world war now being waged, the responsibility rests squarely on German militarism and the nearest approach to prevention is extermination of German militarists. Sentiment does not enter into the consideration of this problem in the slightest degree; it is a case of survival of the fittest, and if Americans do not care to survive they acknowledge thereby they are not the fittest nation. Americans can do two things, fight or support the fighters. More than a million of our sons are fighting and we have no intention of deserting them. On the contrary, we will support them by production at home. Production at home costs money which is supplied by Liberty Bonds, so that it becomes the duty of everyone to fight or buy bonds. Kingston and Ulster want to do their duty, but they should go over the top in a way to stimulate and entice our boys who already are abroad. Several years ago someone attempted to figure the cost of the Civil War to Ulster county but after carrying the figures through five or six years gave up the job and simply estimated for the balance of the time to the present. We fought for a principle then as now. Will anyone say we paid too dearly then? Is it possible for us to pay too dearly now.

Sooner or later, according to all theological theories, we go to our reward, which in ordinary parlance means that we die and are judged for eternity according as our good or evil deeds in life have predominated. "The evil that men do," says Shakespeare, "lives after them; the good is oft interred with their bones." Gavrio Prinzip, the assassin of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, who died several days ago in a fortress near Prague, bears out fully the truth of Shakespeare's statement. Gavrio Prinzip was the man whose deed was used by Germany to precipitate the present world war. It was his assassination of the Austro-Hungarian heir apparent that led to the Austrian ultimatum to Serbia four weeks later which in turn led to the correspondence between the various European monarchs and eventually in the invasion of Belgium. The country in which Prinzip's crime occurred tried him, as was to be expected. No person of well balanced judgment believes for an instant, or ever has believed, that his act was political any more than the act of assassination of any other ruler; that is, political differences were at the bottom, but no political party, no government, no nation, would stand sponsor for such an act, because the consequences would be too well known in advance, and no nation or political party deliberately invites extermination or a condition which must lead to suicide.

HUN BRUTALITY.

A certain fine young American declared before he left for the front that he would die before he would let the Germans take him captive. He kept his word. He is dead. Within a week the news came that he fell fighting in the battle of Picardy. His family must feel that it is better so after reading Irvin Cobb's account in the Saturday Evening Post for April 27 of the brutalities suffered by English prisoners early in the war, an account taken from an accumulating British record containing the sworn statements of Englishmen escaping from Germany. American captives are likely to suffer all this and more, for even more intense German hatred is directed toward America now than was directed toward England then.

Irvin Cobb's story, in brief, is that wounded British prisoners, crammed into cattle cars and purposely left to die of their injuries, were dragged about Germany for days and exhibited to a jeering, cursing and threatening population. They were reviled, spat upon and sometimes actually attacked. Even well dressed women joined in the abuse and the spitting. Even Red Cross nurses spat in the food as they offered it, often only pretending to offer it and then taking it back, or throwing it on the ground outside of the cars with derisive laughter. The poor prisoners were packed in the cattle cars for days amid monstrous filth and stench, there being no provision for the imperative calls of nature. When they called piteously for drink the answer was likely to be a bucket of water derisively dashed over them. Mere scraps of food were thrown to them which they were left to scramble for like dogs for a bone. One wounded officer was forced to walk naked through a hilarious crowd to get a morsel of food. A prison was left to burn over the prisoners heads, bayonets keeping back rescuers. These are but a few of the barbarities in a hideous chronicle showing the depths of depravity to which the Germans have sunk in their rage.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Do you write any free verse?"
"Yes, no editor will pay me for it."—Boston Transcript.

"Our refrigerator has given out. I am afraid we shall have to get a new one." "Why not use the furnace?"—Life.

"It would never do for a violinist to have two strings to his bow; he wants about a hundred horsehoofs. What the horse has to say about it is, of course, another tall.—Musical Courier.

"Lightning rods remind me of waiters." "In what way, pray?" "They have to be well tipped to make them give good service."—Baltimore American.

"Are you not tempted to retire from politics?" "No," replied Senator Sorghum; "that's a proposition concerning which I fear compulsion, not temptation."—Washington Star.

Unbelieving.

A senator, while traveling in the south, attended a colored church one Sunday morning and put a $20 bill in the collection plate.

The collector gave a start. He carried the plate, with its little heap of coppers and nickels and its crisp yellow bill, up to the pulpit. There he conversed excitedly in hissing whispers for several minutes.

Finally the collector tiptoed down to the senator and muttered in his ear.

"Boss, when yo' gwine to leave dis town?"

"Tomorrow morning," said the senator.

"Wall, boss," whispered the collector, "we uns have decided to pass her if you'll promise to keep still. Dere ain't a man in town can tell her from a good one."—Exchange.

Truthful Anyhow.

Food Controller Hoover told at a meatless-wheatless banquet a story about a poultry profiteer. "A lady entered his shop," said Mr. Hoover, "and asked the price of chicken. 'Them birds in the winder?' said the profiteer. 'Wall, they're very fine quality stock. I can't let 'em go for less than 94 cents a pound.' 'Indeed?' said the lady. 'Did you raise them yourself?' 'Yep,' said the profiteer absently. 'They were 70 cents yesterday.'"—Buffalo Commercial.

Too Accommodating.

One day after the brakeman had been explaining the scenery one of the passengers whispered to the conductor:

"Conductor, can you tell me how that brakeman lost his finger? He seems to be a nice fellow."

"That's just it, madam. He's so obliging that he just wore his finger off pointing out the scenery along the line."—New York Globe.

Like Humans.

He had ordered lobster. She felt that she ought to be entertaining, so she remarked: "Isn't it queer that lobsters are always green until they get into hot water?"

"Nothing queer about it," he came back. "If they weren't green they wouldn't get into hot water."—Boston Transcript.

Let's Maximise.

The war labor conference board was absolutely sound in laying down the proposition that "the maximum production of all war industries should be maintained, and methods of work and operation on the part of employers or workers which operate to delay or limit production, or which have a tendency artificially to increase the cost thereof, should be discouraged." And the means of discouraging delay should be vigorous and effective.

SHIP CARPENTERS ARE WELL PAID

Commencing this week ship carpenters are being paid at the rate of $7.70 a day for an eight hour day. This is on government work, but the other shipyards are said to be paying over $6 a day for carpenters. It was only a year or so ago when a ship carpenter was considered a well paid man if he could command $2.50 or $3 a day.

All of the shipyards along the Rondout creek are rushed with work, and the workmen are receiving big wages. This money is practically all expended in Kingston and the local merchants are receiving the benefit of it. At the present time there are fully five hundred or more men at work at the shipyards.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Robert, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Peck, died Wednesday morning of pneumonia, aged 17 months. The funeral was held this afternoon at half past two, interment in Whitwick Cemetery.

The funeral of Francisco DeCicco, who suicided the other day at East Kingston, will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the residence of his son, James DeCicco, at East Kingston, and thence to St. Colman's Church. The interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery, this city.

Captain Reginald Somers Cooks, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. King Sturdee, of Taunton, Somerset, England, formerly of Albany and Saugerties, was killed in action in France on April 24. Captain Cooks was in command of a company of the Somerset Light Infantry. Last January he was married to Flora Margaret Sturdee, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. King Sturdee.

John A. Terpening, a well known resident of Union Center, died at his home there this morning. The funeral will take place from the Union Center Chapel on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Terpening was injured last Saturday. While cranking his car on the Rifton road the car ran over him and he sustained a broken back, which resulted in his death. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Terpening, he is survived by three sisters, Florence and Zellma, at home, and Josephine of Bloomfield, N. J.

The funeral of William Easman, who died at his late home at Napanoch, N. Y., on Sunday last, was held from his home on Thursday afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Clemons of the M. E. Church and interment was made in the Faintekill cemetery. Mr. Easman was well and favorably known throughout the section of country, was a veteran of the Civil War, a member of the Old 120th, and a regular attendant at its reunions when health permitted. Surviving are his wife and a son and two daughters, Mrs. Helen and Miss Evelyn Easman, at home.

William MacMullen of Saugerties died Thursday at his home on Allen street. For many years he was actively identified with Washington Hook and Ladder Co., and served as chief engineer of the Saugerties Fire Department. He was an Odd Fellow, Knight of Pythias, Red Man and a member of the Junior Order of American Mechanics. He is survived by a wife and four children; three sisters, Mrs. Viola Jack, of Saugerties; Mrs. William Wolven, of Harrison, N. J.; and Mrs. Bert Whitney, of Malden; and two brothers, James E. of Saugerties, and John of Newark, N. J.; a son, William, Jr., 25 years of age was buried on Sunday last. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at Trinity Church, with interment in Trinity cemetery.

Mrs. Susan Haight Deyo, wife of William H. Deyo, died at her home on Maple avenue and Maiden Lane, Ellenville, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock after a long illness, having passed her 83rd birthday on April 7. Mrs. Deyo, so well and favorably known, was born in Ellenville, a daughter of the late well known and highly respected citizens, Mr. and Mrs. David Haight. She grew to young womanhood, was married to Mr. Deyo, and has resided her life in the village. To Mr. and Mrs. Deyo were born four children, one deceased, a beautiful daughter, Miss Nell V. Deyo, who died just as she was entering young womanhood. Mrs. Deyo was a woman of fine Christian character, a woman devoted to her home and family, a kind neighbor, a good friend. Of her could be said: Just to know her, was to love her and will be sorely missed, although not active the past year in the home circle. Surviving are her husband, one of Ellenville's best known citizens and business men; one son, Warden George Deyo of Napanoch, and two daughters, Mrs. John C. Johnson, who resided at home and Mrs. William R. DuBois of Ellenville, and four grandchildren, Lieut. William H. Deyo of Camp Merritt, Miss Barbara Deyo, Deyo Johnson and Christine DuBois. The funeral will be held from her late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The service will be conducted by the Rev. W. S. Maines of the Reformed Church, of which deceased was a member. She was also a member of the local Woman's Christian Temperance Union and interment will be made in the family plot in the Faintekill cemetery.

Sunshine Society.

The Sunshine Society will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hendricks on Washington avenue. As there will be special reports presented, a full attendance is desired.

Crime Still Decreasing.

Crime is still decreasing in Ulster county, as evidenced by the fact of the comparatively few criminal cases this year handled by the local police and the sheriff and his deputies. A decrease in intoxication cases has been especially noticeable.

SOME SOBER GOWNS

Sensible and Economical Fabrics Not Disregarded.

Black Satin, Blue Serge, Gray Jersey Cloth and Shades of Gaberdine Ruling Street Costumery.

There is no disposition shown by the French designers, as they have expressed their genius in the new clothes, to omit all the fabrics that are sensible and economical. Black satin, blue serge, gray jersey cloth and several shades of gaberdine are ruling street costumery.

Metal tissues and laces are lavishly used for the afternoon and the evening, but they are sobered by miles of chiffon. Sturdy crepe de chine, which looks fragile and is not, is offered in the smartest gowns for the street.

There are one-piece frocks as well as suits, and capes have superseded top coats. Elaborate and expensive embroidery has given way to ornamentation by means of wool or twine, and intricate machine stitching is abandoned in favor of bits of applied material, straight rows of military braid or folds of corded satin.

Lace is used as though Belgium had been reinstated and every one of the lace weavers working overtime. Flounces, capes, sleeves and panels of lace are dropped on narrow, slim underslips of satin.

Satin and serge are combined for those who want to wear a frock for the next six months without feeling uncomfortably warm or cold.

Waistcoats, the styles of which were drawn from all the epochs preceding this one, are used in coats, which gives the economical woman a chance to refurbish her last year's suit and feel herself quite in the picture. The French designers knew that they were offering a sop to the economists in promoting this accessory.

Sturdy pique has been revived for those who do not care to invest in handkerchief linen, perishable batiste or expensive flowered voile. These suits and frocks of pique are trimmed with velvet, as in older days, and all the dyes that France has manufactured for her own use have been brought to bear upon white and cream lace in order to make harmonious costumes; and this trick again gives the woman of slender means a chance to look exceedingly smart through the medium of dipping yellow lace in a small quantity of reliable dye.

Paris has sent over a multiple number of short, straight jackets, with fronts that do not meet, and in the space between is displayed a frilled front with a turnover collar and a dotted foulard cravat. This little front is basted into the coat, and thereby saves one from using a whole shirtwaist, with its accompanying laundry bill.

CAPE FOR SPRING WEAR

The reason for the popularity of capes for the coming season is readily explained by the existence of this model of pearl-gray velour with its deep scarf collar edged with heavy silk fringe.

Laundered Laces.

Dainty laces should be washed in the following way if you would keep their fresh, new look: Purchase 4 cents' worth of benzoline; this spirit is highly inflammable, so should be kept away from artificial light or fire. Take two basins and into each put a little of the benzoline. Dip the lace in one, douse it up and down, then squeeze gently and dip in the second lot of benzoline; by then all the dirt will have dropped out. Shake the lace; it will dry in a few minutes and look like new.

Pile Fabrics Still Used.

In view of the shortage of wool fabrics expected next winter, it is thought that the various pile fabrics will be very much used. Plushes and velours for coats are expected to be much in demand and, of course, fur coats for those who can afford them.

Senior Dance This Evening.

The Senior class of the high school will give a dance this evening in the high school gymnasium. Music will be furnished by Palen's orchestra.

Druggists Here Have Something New For Colds

Applied Externally, the Body Heat

Form.

COLDS GO OVER NIGHT
CROUP IN 15 MINUTES

The Manufacturers Have Authorized the Local Druggists to Sell Any of the Three Sizes, 25c, 50c or $1.00, on 30 Days' Trial.

Since its introduction here a short time ago, the new treatment for cold troubles, known as VapoRub, has aroused a great deal of interest among local people, especially among mothers with small children.

Local druggists report that numbers have taken advantage of their 30 days' trial offer to see if a 25c jar of VapoRub really will relieve their troubles externally, without having to "dose" with nauseous internal medicines.

For croup, coughs, chest colds, sore throat or bronchitis, apply VapoRub well over the throat and chest, covering with a warm flannel cloth. Leave the covering loose around the neck so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled.

In addition, VapoRub is absorbed through and stimulates the skin, taking out that tightness and soreness in the chest. For head colds, catarrh, hay fever, or asthmatic troubles, VapoRub can either be applied up the nostrils or a little melted in a spoon and the vapors inhaled.

You have to try this treatment to realize its remarkable effect in all cases of cold troubles.—Advertisement.

THIS CUPID IS A FEMALE DOG

City Clerk Doremus Also Finds Several Kaisers in Kingston in Completing Dog Census—There Are 987 Dogs Licensed This Year.

City Clerk Doremus has just completed the compilation of the dog
census of Kingston, and this season but 987 dogs have been licensed. The enumerator at the city hall has been busy during the winter sending many
to dog heaven, but just how many is not known as no record was kept of the number.

A glance through the list of dog licenses reveals many amusing facts.
For instance it develops that there is one dog in the city named Cupid and to add to the humor is the fact that it is a female dog. It might be added
there is also a Peep O'Day in town
as well as one or two Noodles and three or four Oodles.

While there are a lot of Dorems
there has also been licenses taken out for one or two Kaisers. To offset that there are three or four Joffres, named after the famous French general, in Kingston, and there is no doubt but if they met the Kaisers
they would put them to rest.

A glance through the list of names discloses the fact that there are also a few Wilsons and while there are a lot of Sports there is only one Shot.
There are also some Rummys and a few Sonny's, but only one Boots.

The list discloses the usual number of Neros, Nellies, Gyps and Tips, but only one Motive.

There are about twenty Rexes while there are any number of Rovers.

The favorite dog name in Kingston,
judging from the license book, however, is Teddy, which leads the list.

There are man Busters, with once in a while a Pete and Patsy, and while there are lots of Fidos there is but one Fije.

Kingston has many Romeos, both male and female, and three Roscos, and while there is one Spothall there are a lot of Caroles and three or four Gingers.

It has been a long hard winter but just the same there is only one Snowball in the city while there are several Trixies and a lot of Sheps and one General Rosalie Jones.

There are any number of Dans, Fritzes and Jeffs and there are just a few Dots.

In glancing over the owners names
it is found that residents whose last names are spelled with an "S" lead
the list of dog owners with owners whose names begin with a "B" are second. There are 193 "S's" on the books and 79 "B's," "C's" and "D's" are respectively third and fourth in the list.

LABOR SUPPLY FOR FARMS.

Farm Bureaus and State Food Commission Working Together.

Farmers who are having difficulty in getting a sufficient supply of farm
help are advised by the state college of agriculture to get in touch with their county farm bureau offices at once. The state food commission and the farm bureaus, working together, have a definite plan of action
and feel very hopeful of being able to help the farmer solve what promises to be his biggest problem—that of getting enough labor to put in the big crops he is planning.

In most of the counties of the state a special assistant has been assigned to the farm bureau offices.
In each county the business of this assistant is to ascertain the needs of the farmers and to see that the labor is distributed in the most advantageous way throughout the county.

No desire is felt on the part of the food commission or the farm bureaus to bring in outside labor unless it is imperatively needed. In fact, the assistants are instructed to use every effort to secure local workers before appealing to the labor specialists of the food commission.
Further than this, the assistant in his instructions is told to "encourage and stimulate the community to furnish all possible local labor to work on farms during the coming season."

The whole idea back of the plan is to help the farmer and to get him the best help it is possible to obtain.

GAME AND FOOD SUPPLY.

To Kill It Off Would Mean Less Than Three Meals, Apiece.

Kill off all the game in the country and it would not make three square meals for each of the inhabitants of the United States. This is the statement of those who are conducting the course in wild life conservation and game breeding at Cornell University.

Not long ago, they explain, the game dealers and the proprietors of some of the big hotels, which cater to epicurean tastes with pocketbooks
to match, went to the food administration and asked that the bars protecting the wild life of the country be let down so that the birds might be killed, to help out the food supply.

The food administration authorities could find no need of doing this,
especially since students of the wild life showed how futile this destruction would be as a food conservation measure. Moreover, it was pointed out that any action opening the way to wholesale destruction would undo all recent progress in bird conservation.

Banks Open Saturday.

For the accommodation of the Liberty Loan purchasers who could not make their first payment before, the National Banks have arranged to remain open until 3 p. m. Saturday, but it would be much better, however, if every subscriber would arrange to call early Saturday morning, as later in the afternoon there might be a great deal of confusion.

The Difference In Shoes!

THE difference between the sort of Shoes we sell and the "Other Sort" will be perfectly apparent to any one who compares our "Good Shoes" with "Just Shoes!"

Our Better Shoes!

Our Shoes are built up to a standard and Not Down to a Price! The result is that our Shoes are more economical than uncertain Shoes:

They wear so much longer and look so much better than "Bargain Shoes," that they are a Better Investment, Dollar for Dollar, than Any Shoes which sell for less money.

The true test of Shoe value is not the First Cost, but the Final Cost—not what they cost Per Pair, but what they cost Per Year. It is upon this simple test of value that the successful growth of our shoe business is based!

BOYS' SHOES!

Boys have a right to wear out three times as many shoes as their fathers, and most boys work the concession to the limit!

While we will not say that our boys' shoes will not wear out, we will say that we have done everything in our power to make the task of wearing them out as difficult as possible.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics, of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Saturday.

Breakfast—Oatmeal with *shredded coconut and top milk; hashed brown potatoes; milk gravy; coffee. Lunch or Supper: Pop corn soufflé; oatmeal bread; * preserved cherries.

Dinner—Kedgeree (made with left-over fish); Boston browned potatoes; *Macedoine of vegetables; *lemon sponge.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

*May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal.

We are so accustomed to thinking of pop corn as a tid bit to be eaten between meals with butter and salt, that we overlook many delicious dishes into which it can be incorporated. Pop corn furnishes slightly more energy to the body than cornmeal.

Pop Corn Soufflé.

Four cups pop corn; hot water, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, ½ tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon salt.

Put the pop corn (popped) through a meat grinder, then cover with enough hot water to soften and let stand until the rest of the soufflé is ready. Make a white sauce of milk, butter and cornstarch, adding the salt, onion and the egg yolk. Add the pop corn to the sauce, then fold in the stiffly beaten white of egg. Put into a greased baking dish, set in a pan of water and bake about 45 minutes.

Kedgeree.

One and one-half cups cooked fish, 1 cup cooked rice or other cereal, 4 tablespoons butter, salt and pepper to taste, 1 tablespoon chopped parsley, 2 hard cooked eggs.

Flake the fish, removing skin and bones. Wash and boil the rice or use left-over cereal. Melt the butter in a sauce-pan, add the whites of the eggs, chopped, the fish and the rice, and stir over the fire all together until quite hot. Take care that the mixture does not brown. Season with salt and pepper and pile in a mound on a hot dish. Decorate the sides with hard cooked egg yolks, rubbed through a sieve, and the parsley. Serve hot.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books, may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics, State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, May 2.—Mrs. Bernard Gordon has returned to her home in Jersey City after a visit with M. S.
John Gordon of Dock street.

Captain W. J. Lackey of the U. S.
Ambulance Corps located at Allentown, Pa., is visiting his parents on Washington avenue.
A number of members of Emanuel Chapter, No. 517, O. E. S., will attend
Kingston Chapter this evening.

Mrs. George Quick of Ulster avenue is visiting in New York city.
Word was received Thursday of the safe arrival overseas of Edward Reynolds and Michael Hennegan, two of Saugerties boys in the National Army.
Mrs. Ferdinand Warringer and son of Main street are in New York city.
Miss Florence Graucher of Montgomery street is attending Morris's Business School in Kingston.

The Navy League met at the home of Mrs. F. E. W. Darrow on Main

"In Dim, Green Depths."

When this war is over, treasure salvage will be undertaken on a scale beyond the dreams of the most imaginative writers of fiction. The ships that have been sunk will be recovered, or their cargoes removed, by processes not heretofore employed. Wrecks are thick in the war zone and the cargoes are of great value. Huge electro-magnets will raise the immense quantities of iron and steel, suction pumps will draw the coal from the bunkers of the colliers, and perhaps submarines will help materially to undo the havoc other submarines have wrought. But that will be "after the war." Just now we are confronted by the task of putting ships on the sea faster than they can be sunk and cutting the enemy submarine out of business.
That is a bigger job than salvaging the treasure—bigger, more important and more profitable.

St. Stephen's College Glee Club.

The St. Stephen's College Glee Club will give an entertainment in Kingston next week, Wednesday evening, May 8, in Holy Cross parish house. Dancing will follow. The glee club comprises practically the same men, who, as the choir of St.
Stephen's College Chapel, afforded so much pleasure in their rendering of Gounod's Gloria at Holy Cross Church last Sunday afternoon. The concert, as indicated on the program for Wednesday, will be somewhat different from the usual glee club concert. The affair is advertised as "An (Undress) Rehearsal," but the manager of the club states that this does not mean that Russian or other ballet is to be introduced. The college dramatic club is quiescent, owing to war conditions, and some of its best talent has been transferred to the glee club.

New Musical Regime.

St. James's Methodist Church in this city will begin next Sunday a new musical regime. The committee has secured as organist and choir director Professor A. L. Brooks, who is principal of what was formerly the Ulster Academy. The quartet will consist of the following persons, all of whom are from this city: Miss Beatrice Freer, soprano; Mrs. E. S.
Morris, contralto; Herman W. La-Tour, tenor; John C. Hall, bass. On Saturday night there will be a special musical service, the program containing several most attractive numbers, some of which will be in keeping with the patriotic nature of the service.
Dr. Baragwanath will continue his plain talks on War topics which are proving attractive. The topic on Sunday night will be an exceedingly plain talk on "Christ and the Kaiser."

Cabbages and Kings.

Sauerkraut manufacturers in New York city have appealed to the federal food board to do anything in its power to prevent a prejudice, born of false patriotism, from driving sauerkraut off the American dinner table. They say the objection to this dish arises from its name, and it is desired to have it changed to "Liberty cabbage." Well, sauerkraut by any other name would smell as sweet but why not call it by its English equivalent, "sour cabbage?" In these throat-parching days, when John Barleycorn is hated with an intensity equalled only by our hatred of the Hun, it would hardly do to call sauerkraut what it really is—fermented cabbage. But "Liberty cabbage!" Shades of Madame Roland, who once exclaimed: "O Liberty, Liberty! how many crimes are committed in thy name!"

SHRINERS GAVE $1,300 TO CHARITY

Kingston Shriners' Association Was Active in Supporting Philanthropies During Past Year—Officers Elected At Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Kingston Shriners' Association was held Thursday evening at Schoentag's Hotel at Glasco and was attended by more than sixty members.

Samuel S. Brown was elected president of the association for the ensuing year; Morris Schoenfeld of Saugerties was elected vice-president; William J. Turk, secretary and treasurer; William H. Van Etten, member of the board of governors.

Following the business session, an elaborate dinner was served by Proprietor Chris. Schoentag. Samuel Stern acted as toastmaster and speeches were made by Congressman Charles B. Ward of Liberty, who was a guest of the association; Philip Elting, County Clerk Christopher K. Loughran, William H. Van Etten and Chris Schoentag. Congressman Ward spoke of the war and the necessity of financial support of the Government through the purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds, and all the speeches were along patriotic lines.

The annual report showed that during the year the Kingston Shriners' Association has contributed $100 to the Red Cross, $300 to the Industrial Home for the purchase of coal, $975 to the Industrial Home as the proceeds of the Shriners' Dance, and in addition has purchased Liberty Loan Bonds amounting to $300.

HOW LIBERTY LOAN DOLLARS WIN FIGHTS

American Victory in Toul Sector Cited as an Example by Bond Expert.

At the battle near Toul, France, a few days ago, when German shock troops assaulted the Americans in that sector, the United States troops used hand grenades as their most effective weapon. The Americans were the victors, the victory being largely due to the use of grenades.

The government pays $50 for twenty-three hand grenades, or the money derived from the sale of one bond of the smallest denomination.

Five New York state cities had bought $1,682,050 worth of Third Liberty Loan bonds when business was suspended for the week end on April 19. They were: Olean, $194,350; Dunkirk, $202,200; Niagara Falls, $221,450; Binghamton, $223,800; New Berlin, $80,250. At the cost of hand grenades Olean has paid for 3,887; Dunkirk, 5,244; Niagara Falls, 10,429; Binghamton, 12,478; New Berlin, 1,605. This makes a total of 33,641 hand grenades that may be purchased with the money subscribed by only five cities of New York state.

The Liberty Loan campaign will not end until May 4. These cities have two weeks in which to provide more hand grenades for the Americans to use and achieve more victories like that near Toul. Every time a citizen buys one $50 bond he provides for twenty-three grenades, perhaps enough to win a battle. Every thousand dollars additional that Olean, Dunkirk, Niagara Falls, Binghamton and New Berlin contribute to the Liberty Loan means 460 more grenades. If each city does no more than double its present subscription the group will have paid for 67,282 of those weapons that routed the enemy at Toul.

Probably the cities mentioned will be far from satisfied with merely doubling their present subscription when their people realize that the very money loaned by them to the government may result in winning a battle and saving thousands of American soldiers from death on the battlefield.

Refusing to buy Liberty Bonds is one way of saving for the Kaiser.

YANKEE LED LIBERTY FIGHT.

Injured Flier Exacted Heavy Toll Before Falling.

Jim McConnell of the Lafayette Escadrille had been in the American Ambulance, but Jim wanted to fight and got accepted for the flying corps. In one of his early flights at the front his machine was damaged by German bullets, and in landing after dark he bumped badly, and his back was injured. For weeks Jim was laid up in the hospital, and his back never did get right. Some days he would be able to stand straight, but the next day would be all bent over like a man with a bad attack of lumbago.

One of the days when he could stand upright Jim went back to the front and got in his machine. It was during the Somme offensive, and Jim was one of the first men to fly low over the opposing lines and clean up the trenches and infantry formations with his machine gun fire. But the Boche got him. They brought him down in their lines with his machine and his body both riddled with bullets.

Jim was one of the Americans who led in the fight for Liberty. He was fighting Germany before America declared war. All America is fighting now, and those who can't go to the front as Jim did can buy Liberty bonds and then go back for more, just as did Jim McConnell with his injured back.

PUT UNDER WAR DISCIPLINE

Mother's Ingenious Scheme to Secure Respectful Attention From Her Small Boy.

There are small boys who are not very prompt to mind their mothers or who do not give their elders a respectful amount of attention when receiving orders. Yet some of them can be disciplined according to the methods used by an alert mother to whom the war gave the idea.

No longer is she simply mother; she is, indeed, a person of far more importance to her militant young son—she's Captain Mother! Her imaginative boy is Private Billie, and as he prides himself upon being a good soldier, you can guess that few of the captain's orders are ignored. Consequently, not only Billie's obedience is a thing to be proud of, but his comprehension and remembrance of orders given are greatly improved, for the captain has told him that he must stand at attention and salute when his name is spoken by a superior officer and that no orders will be given until Private Billie's eyes are fastened upon the captain's with undivided interest.

At the end of the week the private's record is reviewed, not only by the captain but by the family army's chief of staff—father. If the record is approved the captain threads a little metal button upon a ribbon, and, behold! Private Billie receives a decoration for his loyal service to the household and to his superiors. You can readily see how this war play makes obedience a wonderfully fascinating game and disciplines the lad beautifully at the same time.

NUISANCE ALL TOO COMMON

No Doubt the Majority of Our Readers Have Met at Some Time the "Big Money" Boy.

Step up a little closer, patrons, look 'em over good, then take your seats and set back for a listen. Y'know this windbag, the big money boy. Oh, yeh! Go ahead, you tickle us. This pipe dream is always putting across some "big deal" expecting a "clean up." "Got a tip," etc., and all that fat chatter. His melody goes a buzz this way:

"Well, things look merry for me, I'll say. Got in on a deal this morning; if it goes through, means much 'Jack,' a 'gas roller' and easy picking for me to last some moons. Can't tell you what it's about just yet. Backed up by so and so of the so and so corporation, and he's sinking all his interest collection on it, so you see what a blazer it is or he wouldn't be in it. I'm to be one of the main squeezes, hold stock, and go on the road at $100 per Saturday, 25 per cent commission and traveling expenses," etc., etc.

Listen! This rummy has more wind than a deck of cyclones. He imagines more money in an hour than the mint turns out in a month. Call his bluff and tell him to go settle his laundry bill with the Chinaman. Remember: They are not putting signs up in the back windows, "President Wanted."—Washington Herald.

SHIP CARPENTERS ARE WELL PAID

Commencing this week ship carpenters are being paid at the rate of $7.70 a day for an eight hour day. This is on government work, but the other shipyards are said to be paying over $6 a day for carpenters. It was only a year or so ago when a ship carpenter was considered a well paid man if he could command $2.50 or $3 a day.

All of the shipyards along the Rondout creek are rushed with work, and the workmen are receiving big wages. This money is practically all expended in Kingston and the local merchants are receiving the benefit of it. At the present time there are fully five hundred or more men at work at the shipyards.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Robert, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Peck, died Wednesday morning of pneumonia, aged 17 months. The funeral was held this afternoon at half past two. Interment in Willow Cemetery.

The funeral of Francisco DeCicco, who suicided the other day at East Kingston, will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock from the residence of his son, James DeCicco, at East Kingston, and thence to St. Colman's Church. The interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery, this city.

Captain Reginald Somers Cooks, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. H. King Sturdee, of Taunton, Somerset, England, formerly of Albany and Saugerties, was killed in action in France on April 24. Captain Cooks was in command of a company of the Somerset Light Infantry. Last January he was married to Flora Margaret Sturdee, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. King Sturdee.

John A. Terpening, a well known resident of Union Center, died at his home there this morning. The funeral will take place from the Union Center Chapel on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Terpening was injured last Saturday. While cranking his car on the Ritten road the car ran over him and he sustained a broken back, which resulted in his death. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Terpening, he is survived by three sisters, Florence and Zelma, at home, and Josephine of Bloomfield, N. J.

The funeral of William Easman, who died at his late home at Nanapanoch, N. Y., on Sunday last, was held from his home on Thursday afternoon. The service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Clemons of the M. E. Church and interment was made in the Fairview cemetery. Mr. Easman was well and favorably known throughout the section of country, was a veteran of the Civil War, a member of the Old 13th, and a regular attendant at its reunions when health permitted. Surviving are his wife and a son and two daughters, Mrs. Helen and Miss Evelyn Easman, at home.

William MacMullen of Saugerties died Thursday at his home on Allen street. For many years he was actively identified with Washington Hook and Ladder Co., and served as chief engineer of the Saugerties Fire Department. He was an Odd Fellow, Knight of Pythias, Red Man and a member of the Junior Order of American Mechanics. He is survived by a wife and four children: three sisters, Mrs. Viola Jack, of Saugerties; Mrs. William Wolven, of Harrison, N. J.; and Mrs. Bert Whitney, of Malden; and two brothers, James E. of Saugerties, and John of Newark, N. J.; a son, William, Jr., 25 years of age was buried on Sunday last. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at Trinity Church, with interment in Trinity cemetery.

Mrs. Susan Haight Deyo, wife of William H. Deyo, died at her home on Maple avenue and Maiden Lane, Ellenville, Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock after a long illness, having passed her 83rd birthday on April 1. Mrs. Deyo, so well and favorably known, was born in Ellenville, a daughter of the late well known and highly respected citizens, Mr. and Mrs. David Haight. She grew to young womanhood, was married to Mr. Deyo, and has resided her life in the village. To Mr. and Mrs. Deyo were born four children, one deceased, a beautiful daughter, Miss Nell V. Deyo, who died just as she was entering young womanhood. Mrs. Deyo was a woman of fine Christian character, a woman devoted to her home and family, a kind neighbor, a good friend. Of her could be said: Just to know her was to love her; and will be greatly missed, although not active the past year in the home circle. Surviving are her husband, one of Ellenville's best known citizens and business men; one son, Warden George Deyo of Nanapanoch, and two daughters, Mrs. John C. Johnson, who resided at home and Mrs. William R. Dubois of Ellenville, and four grandchildren, Lieut. William H. Deyo of Camp Merritt, Miss Barbara Deyo, Deyo Johnson and Christine Dubois. The funeral will be held from her late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The service will be conducted by the Rev. W. S. Maines of the Reformed church, of which deceased was a member. She was also a member of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union and interment will be made in the family plot in the Fairview cemetery.

Sunshine Society.
The Sunshine Society will hold its regular monthly meeting next Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hendricks on Washington avenue. As there will be special reports presented, a full attendance is desired.

Crime Still Decreasing.
Crime is still decreasing in Ulster county, as evidenced by the fact of the comparatively few criminal cases this year handled by the local police and the sheriff and his deputies. A decrease in intoxication cases has been especially noticeable.

SOME SOBER GOWNS

Sensible and Economical Fabrics Not Disregarded.

There is no disposition shown by the French designers, as they have expressed their genius in the new clothes, to omit all the fabrics that are sensible and economical. Black satin, blue serge, gray jersey cloth and several shades of gaberdine are ruling street costumery.

Metal tissues and laces are lavishly used for the afternoon and the evening, but they are sobered by miles of chiffon. Sturdy crepe de chine, which looks fragile and is not, is offered in the smartest gowns for the street.

There are one-piece frocks as well as suits, and capes have superseded top-coats. Elaborate and expensive embroidery has given way to ornamentation by means of wool or twine, and intricate machine stitching is abandoned in favor of bits of applied material, straight rows of military braid or folds of corded satin.

Lace is used as though Belgium had been reinstated and every one of the lace weavers working overtime. Flounces, capes, sleeves and panels of lace are dropped on narrow, slim underslips of satin.

Satin and serge are combined for those who want to wear a frock for the next six months without feeling uncomfortably warm or cold.

Waistcoats, the styles of which were drawn from all the epochs preceding this one, are used in coats, which gives the economical woman a chance to refurbish her last year's suit and feel herself quite in the picture. The French designers knew that they were offering a sop to the economists in promoting this accessory.

Sturdy pique has been revived for those who do not care to invest in handkerchief linen, perishable batiste or expensive flowered voile. These suits and frocks of pique are trimmed with velvet, as in older days, and all the dyes that France has manufactured for her own use have been brought to bear upon white and cream lace in order to make harmonious costumes; and this trick again gives the woman of slender means a chance to look exceedingly smart through the medium of dipping yellow lace in a small quantity of reliable dye.

Paris has sent over a multiple number of short, straight jackets, with fronts that do not meet, and in the space between is displayed a frilled front with a turnover collar and a dotted foulard cravat. This little front is basted into the coat, and thereby saves one from using a whole shirtwaist, with its accompanying laundry bill.

CAPE FOR SPRING WEAR

The reason for the popularity of capes for the coming season is readily explained by the existence of this model of pearl-gray velour with its deep scarf collar edged with heavy silk fringe.

Laundried Laces.

Dainty laces should be washed in the following way if you would keep their fresh, new look: Purchase 4 cents' worth of benzoline; this spirit is highly indurmountable, so should be kept away from artificial light or fire. Take two basins and into each put a little of the benzoline. Dip the lace in one, douse it up and down, then squeeze gently and dip in the second lot of benzoline; by then all the dirt will have dropped out. Shake the lace; it will dry in a few minutes and look like new.

Pile Fabrics Still Used.

In view of the shortage of wool fabrics expected next winter, it is thought that the various pile fabrics will be very much used. Plushes and velours for coats are expected to be much in demand and, of course, fur coats for those who can afford them.

These Long Full Days of Daylight Have Encouraged Greater Home Sewing—

She can now sit down at her machine after the supper table has been cleared off and start making a dress or skirt or items of wear for her children. She can now overcome the strain put upon her eyes by artificial light and sew in broad daylight. We have not the slightest reason to doubt but that this very fact has increased our sales in the yard goods section almost doublefold.

Japanese Fond of Theatricals.
The Japanese so enjoy the wandering theaters of their land that they will walk miles to see one of their epics or folk tales produced by puppets or by real players. Whenever the manager sets up his stage and properties there is the jabbering Japanese crowd, eager for evening and the prospective treat.

Potatoes—Peel thin and win.

Why Japanese Tea is Liked.

One feature which marks tea curing in Japan is the proverbial cleanliness which is characteristic of the Japanese people. The rules of sanitation are strictly observed by the tea growers of Japan. Not only the health and sanitation of workers are strictly examined by local tea associations, but also the process of curing is inspected with great care. Japanese teas have never been artificially colored as have been teas from some other countries.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Birthday Party Tuesday.

On Tuesday evening of this week, Miss Edna Boice entertained twenty-three of her friends at her home, No. 55 Lafayette avenue, in honor of her sixteenth birthday. Those present were the Misses Elizabeth Forsyth, Tressa Nichols, Jennie Martine, Grace Haver, Sadie Lockwood, Margaret Van Kuren, Helena Schenck, Florence Gillette, Gladys Silkworth, the Misses Floyd Brown, John Barton, Vernon Miller, Joseph Netherwood, Jr., Richard Netherwood, Herbert Wolfe, Harold Reynolds, Leo Turner and David Richtmyer, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Netherwood and Mr. Clares of New York city. Many beautiful gifts were received by the hostess. The evening was spent in playing games and piano and violin selections by Miss Nichols, Miss Boice and Mr. Netherwood. After refreshments were served, the guests departed, wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

Miss Boyer's Birthday Celebrated.

Walter LeC. Boyer, of the New York board of water supply, gave a dinner at the Stuyvesant Hotel today in honor of his daughter, Marion Hall Boyer. The party consisted of six, the guests besides Miss Boyer being Mrs. Alexander H. McKinney of New York city, Mrs. Sarah Henyon of Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Morris of Kingston. Souvenir menu cards, hand painted in water color by Mr. Boyer, furnished a novel feature. The sketches illustrating various outdoor sporting scenes in which the form of Miss Marion appeared prominently. The flowers by Burgevin Brothers were corsage bouquets of sweet peas and carnation and boutonnières. The dedication on the menu read:

To Marion
Sunshine Girl
Let the light of thy countenance radiate joy
About thee all of thy days.
That happiness may follow the trail of thy footsteps
And blessings be upon thee
"Daddy."

The dinner was faultlessly served in Mrs. Winne's inimitable style, she giving her personal attention to details. In the evening the party took an automobile ride around the Ashokan reservoir. Miss Boyer and her aunt, Mrs. McKinney, are stopping at the Stuyvesant for the week end. The young lady is attending school in New York city, where she is specializing in music, literature and art.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, May 3.—Wednesday evening at Miss Emma Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith of Cantonville on Berne road, below the village, put the saddle and bridle on the new horse purchased the day before and started toward the village.

When near the late Ben Geisler place a dog ran out and frightened the horse and it began to run and the horse continued until it reached Market street, where it attempted to make the turn and slipped on the pavement. Miss Smith was thrown from the horse and dragged a short distance, receiving a bad blow over her left eye, a cut lip and was otherwise bruised. She was carried into the Mutual drug store and Dr. Neal dressed her wounds and she was taken home.

The spring pageant given under the direction of Miss Evelyn B. Bailey at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening was a very pleasing entertainment and enjoyed by the large audience attending. About $100 was realized, which goes for the refugee children of France.

Word has been received by his parents of the safe arrival of Edward A. Smith overseas. Edward was the popular clerk at the Ellenville Steam Laundry before he entered the U. S. service.

Proprietors A. J. and F. F. Farr of Mt. Mongola have purchased the T. D. Hurst property known as Laurel-hurst on the mountain and will offer the cottage for rent furnished.

Bert H. Terwilliger and family have moved from their Center street residence to Mt. Meenahga for the summer season.

Miss Mildred Hill of Pine Hill is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John H. Divine.

Mrs. Fred Kramel has returned from a short visit with her son and wife and daughter, Miss Marie Kramel at Newark, N. J.

Mrs. William Booth, Jr., is spending a few days with her son, Ralph Booth and wife, at Hartford, Conn.

Kerhonkson has doubled in quota in the third Liberty Loan, Napanoch and Cragmoor have far exceeded theirs and Ellenville is expected to go far over the top.

Miss Abby Kite of Philadelphia, the well known Cragmoor resident, and owner of a large boarding house there, has arrived in Ellenville and will spend a few days with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Alford, and will then go to Cragmoor for a short stay as on account of Miss Kite's health other parties will run the summer house this season.

Chief of Police Arch Freer in new uniform entered upon his duties on Wednesday, May 2.

Chester Young has been named to succeed the late George H. Dutcher as a trustee of the Ellenville Savings Bank.

Alverson H. Aseltine, of the Equitable Trust Co., New York, returns to the city this week after putting in a month furthering the Liberty Loan campaign in this section, with headquarters at Ellenville.

Debate at Clinton Ave. Church.

A debate under the auspices of the Men's Association of Clinton Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church will be held at the church next Wednesday evening, May 8th. The subject will be: "Resolved, that the press is the greater factor in shaping public opinion than the pulpit." Prof. Gar-land of School No. 8 will be the leader for the affirmative and Prof. Miner of School No. 6 will be the leader for the negative.

THIS CUPID IS A FEMALE DOG

City Clerk Doremus Also Finds Ser-vical Raisers in Kingston in Completing Dog Census—There Are 987 Dogs Licensed This Year.

City Clerk Doremus has just completed the compilation of the dog
census of Kingston and this season
but 987 dogs have been licensed. The gasconade at the city hall has been busy during the winter sending many
to dog heaven, but just how many is not known as no record was kept of
the number.

A glance through the list of dog
licenses reveals many amusing facts.
For instance it develops that there is one dog in the city named Cupid and
to add to the humor is the fact that it is a female dog. It might be added
there is also a Peep O'Day in town
as well as one or two Noodles and
three or four Oodles.

While there are a lot of Deweys
there has also been licenses taken out
for one or two Kaisers. To offset
that there are three or four Joffres
named after the famous French general, in Kingston, and there is no doubt but if they met the Kaisers
they would put them to rout.

A glance through the list of names
discloses the fact that there are also
a few Wilsons and while there are a lot of Sports there is only one Shoi.
There are also some Rummys and a few Sonny's but only one Boots.

The list discloses the usual number of Neros, Netties, Gyms and Tips, but only one Motive.

There are about twenty Reves
while there are any number of Rovers.

The favorite dog name in Kingston judging from the license book however is Teddy which leads the list.
There are many Busters with once in a while a Pete and Patsy, and while there are lots of Fidoes there is but one Tije.

Kingston has many Romeos both male and female and three Roscoes and while there is one Spotball there are a lot of Carloes and three or four Gingers.

It has been a long hard winter but just the same there is only one Snow-
ball in the city while there are several Trivies and a lot of Sheps and one General Rosalie Jones.

There are any number of Dams, Fritzes and Jeffs and there are just a few Dots.

In glancing over the owners names
it is found that residents whose last names are spelled with an 'S' lead
the list of dog owners with owners
whose names begin with a 'B' are second. There are 103 'S's' on the books and 79 'B's' 'C' and 'D' are respectively third and fourth in the list.

mission Working Together

Farmers who are having difficulty
in getting a sufficient supply of farm
help are advised by the state college
of agriculture to get in touch with their county farm bureau offices at once. The state food commission
and the farm bureaus working together have a definite plan of action
and feel very hopeful of being able to help the farmer solve what promises to be his biggest problem—that
of getting enough labor to put in the big crops he is planning.

In most of the counties of the state a special assistant has been assigned to the farm bureau offices.
In each county the business of this
assistant is to ascertain the needs
of the farmers and to see that the labor is distributed in the most advantageous way throughout the county.

No desire is felt on the part of
the food commission or the farm
bureaus to bring in outside labor unless it is imperative needed. In fact, the assistants are instructed to use every effort to secure local workers before appealing to the labor
specialists of the food commission.
Further than this the assistant in
his instructions is told to encourage and stimulate the community to furnish all possible local labor to work on farms during the coming season.

The whole idea back of the plan is to help the farmer and to get him the best help it is possible to obtain.

To Kill Off Would Mean Less Than Three Meals a Week.

Kill off all the game in the country and it would not make three square meals for each of the inhabitants of the United States. This is the statement of those who are conducting the course in wild life conservation and game breeding at Cornell University.

Not long ago they explain, the game dealers and the proprietors of
some of the big hotels which cater
to epicurean tastes with pocketbooks
to match went to the food administration and asked that the bare protecting the wild life of the country
be let down so that the birds might
be killed, to help out the food supply.

The food administration authorities could find no need of doing this especially since students of the wild life showed how futile this destruction would be as a food conservation measure. Moreover it was pointed out that any action opening the way
to wholesale destruction would undo
all recent progress in bird conservation.

Banks Open Saturday.

For the accommodation of the Liberty Loan purchasers who could not make their first payment before, the National Banks have arranged to remain open until 3 p. m. Saturday, but it would be much better, however, if every subscriber would advance in call early Saturday morning, as later
in the afternoon there might be a great deal of confusion.

NOTABLE SPEAKERS AT D. A. R. MEETING

The large gathering of members of Wilby Chapter, D. A. R., at the Chapter House on Thursday afternoon, not only showed the spirit of the Daughters in the purchase of Liberty Bonds, but presented to those present two notable local speakers: Dr. George W. Nash of Hurley, and Rear Admiral Higginson of Kingston.

During the business session it was voted to buy two $100 Liberty Bonds, the money for such purchase having been contributed by loyal and patriotic members of the Chapter.

Two new members were received into the Chapter, having been transferred from the Gansvoort Chapter of Albany; Mrs. Kate Keator Lawrence and Miss Mary Keator Husted. A fine tribute was paid to the memory of the late corresponding secretary of the Chapter, Miss Louise Trempier, whose loyalty and devotion to the Chapter were always so sincere and who was always ready to do her part in serving the Chapter.

In reporting about letters received from soldiers and sailors, Mrs. John Ryder read an especially interesting letter just received from MacDonald Edinger at present not only "Some-where in France," but evidently near the front.

In connection with the observance of Decoration Day, Mrs. Ogden Winne and Miss Kate Westbrook were made joint chairmen of a committee to have charge of decorating the graves of soldiers and sailors in this city. Mrs. Brink and Mrs. Lockwood of Hurley, were made joint chairmen of a committee to perform a like duty in Hurley.

In her report of the historical events of May 2nd, Mrs. Wood, historian, now and then broke into verse in referring to events of today as follows:

"Have you heard of the Past Tense Patriot?"

He loves to tell of Paul Revere.

Ethan Allen, too.

Their deeds of daring thrill him clear.

Through and through and through.

He bodily fights at Lexington.

Mentally in thought.

But not a single bond, not one.

Has he ever bought?"

Again:

"Wilby Chapter, D. A. R., ever loyal and true.

Has subscribed for Liberty Bonds not a few.

We've knit and knit till fingers and brain are but a motor."

And closing as follows:

"Ours not to reason why,

Ours but to save and buy!"

The program for the afternoon which was in charge of Mrs. Ogden Winne and Miss Kate Westbrook, had for its first number, the playing of a medley of patriotic airs, especially requested by Miss Helen Westbrook who delighted her audience, to such an extent that she was obliged to respond with an encore.

Dr. Nash's Address.

The first speaker for the afternoon, Dr. George W. Nash, was then introduced, and in view of the present practices of "frightfulness" observed by the Germans, his topic was especially interesting. It was "Some Old-Time Methods of Punishment." In opening his able and informing address as well as interesting address, Dr. Nash said:

On an early map of New Amsterdam, dated 1650, the very first things that strike the eye are two gallows, erected on the shore, at the very edge of the water. One is of the regulation shape, in which one discovers a criminal suffering the death penalty by hanging. The other is in the shape of a tall mast, from the top of which an arm extends out over the surface of the water. From this arm three hangings suspended in the air, sprawling like a huge spider, some leekless wight, who is here paying his debt for some infraction of the law, before a crowd assembled below and about the gallows. At some distance in the rear are seen the fort, and the village of the Dutch inhabitants. It would seem from this, that settlement, government and punishment went hand in hand in the early days and it is to the latter I will ask you to direct your attention this afternoon.

I will say here, however, that it would appear from the early records that the public morals were higher in Dutch New Amsterdam than in the English colonies. One strong fact stands out boldly, there were not witches burned in New Amsterdam.

The first century of Dutch life in New Amsterdam did not show any serious manifestation of crime, although the punishment of peccadilloes was begun very early and the simple means of punishing scolds and other petty infractions of the peace could be easily devised and carried out. A house of detention was not needed for over a hundred years after the settlers came here. Whipping could be administered by the public whipper or by any person willing to accept the job. This latter method was often utilized to pay off an old grudge or debt.

Of course in those old days, as is true now, the primary object of punishment was a deterring agency against the commission of crime. It would almost seem, however, from the publicity of such punishment and from the almost spectacular methods of punishment in vogue, that the authorities had in mind something like what we, of a few years ago, like to recall them quickly to mind:—

"My object, all sublime, I shall achieve in time.

To make the punishment fit the crime.

And make each prisoner pent, unwittingly repent."

The double object here expressed was almost as plainly indicated in the early days in this country. To make the punishment fit the crime was an object of course and in many cases this was seemingly very cleverly accomplished. To be sure, in some it was most severely done as nearly all crime was considered worthy of the most severe punishment. The spectacular methods adopted may not have conduced to any great show of merriment but must have caused considerable diversion and entertainment for the public, which gathered so quickly to see what was being done.

A people who took their pleasures roughly would not be apt to be squeamish about the severity or barbarity of their method of punishment. This would apply better, perhaps, to New Amsterdam than elsewhere. On the other hand, people who took their pleasures sadly, seemed to find severity of punishment a relief for overburdened souls and the stronger the penalty the greater the relief. This was the situation, perhaps, in Plymouth.

In Colonial times, as is the case now, punishment was not only inflicted for actual crime involving moral turpitude but also for transgressions of the various laws, where no moral turpitude was involved, but which communities have enacted for the maintenance of order and for the welfare, comfort and peace of mind of the people as a whole. Under the latter would come even what we do not now have, punishment of people for not thinking as we do, especially in the matter of religious belief, where it really amounted to persecution. Just a few words here about the difference between crime and transgression. Theft and murder are crimes and are justly punished; spitting on the street and playing ball on Sunday are not crimes but are simply transgressions with penalties attached to them. The old summary laws involved no moral turpitude and yet some of the strongest punishments were enacted by them. Even in Plymouth, where a God-fearing public founded a close religious community there was need of something more than a guilty conscience for a delinquent. It was found necessary to exert a little physical pressure on the housing of a transgressor, not by means of methods of punishment devised for the purpose. Yet there was a bit of dry humor even then, in the magisterial mind in meting out punishment, for instance, a certain man had been engaged to make a pair of stocks for the punishment of malefactors. Having demanded what the authorities considered a too high price for his work, he was penalized by being confined in the very stocks he had made, thus being their first occupant. How the magistrate must have smiled inwardly at the conceit or did he take the graft-busting manufacturer seriously and treat him accordingly?

Dr. Nash then went on in some detail and with many an interesting, humorous or informing anecdote to describe the impositions of fines, there was that of mental suffering, with or without physical pain, such as banishment. Again, there was physical discomfort, divided by the doctor into three classes, confinement in jail; actual physical suffering; physical suffering with disfigurement. Then came the death penalty and in the old days it was shown that there was still one more punishment for suicides, wherein after death, the "poor wretch was laid in the grave, a stake was driven through the heart as an added distinct mark of ignominy."

In closing Dr. Nash said: "From all that has been said it may be seen that punishment, a handmaiden of civilization, used her prerogatives, in the early history of our country, with a rather rough, rude and unsparring hand. Today, however, from the occasional gleams through the clouds of darkness, we see the dawn of a new life, it would seem that the same handmaid was using her power less in a correctional and more in an educational manner."

Admiral Higginson's Address.

Following this highly appreciated address, Rear Admiral Higginson, in behalf of the education committee of the Home Defense Committee of Ulster county, spoke to the women present on "Patriotism." After intimating that such a talk was scarcely needed by such a group of loyal women, Admiral Higginson divided his subject of "Patriotism" into two groups. Under the first group of community patriotism, the speaker included the usual peace-time efforts of child welfare, play ground, dance halls for working girls, swimming pools and community centers.

As to the second group, Admiral Higginson spoke as follows:

The larger national patriotism which our souls are imbued if often latent and unsuspected feeling often brought out by some crisis or catastrophe like the firing on the flag at Fort Sumpter; the blowing up of the Maine; or the sinking of the Lusitania.

When called forth it burns with an intense and more consuming flame than the local variety. We are now all united in the influence of such a flame and it is our duty as a community, man, woman and child, to see that like the Vestal Virgins, the lamp of our patriotism is kept burning brightly until our object is accomplished. And what is that object? Was ever a nation given a more soul-stirring object than the salvation and regeneration of a whole world? How this war we are engaged in dwarfs all other wars which affected us only locally as a nation! Now are we lifted to a higher plane and we fight not only for ourselves but for many a small brother nation and for the cause of human freedom throughout the world. Think what that means! Think what a glorious mission it is to be able to bring freedom, peace and protection from aggression to a vast number of our fellow beings! Think of the children yet unborn who will bless us of this generation for securing to them the right to live their own lives in their own way as the children of today bless or should bless, the veterans of the Civil War who secured for them the blessings of a united and free country. This tremendous task which we have undertaken and which under God's providence we are going to see through to our last man and our last dollar, this purification by fire will by its holy sacrifices lift us all to a higher plane of thought and a higher spiritual level and will leave to future generations a legacy of imperishable glory.

I implore you all to cultivate a cheerful optimism about the final result of the war. However unfavorable the course of events may seem or however long the agony of conflict may be drawn out, do not, I beg of you, allow yourselves to doubt for a moment that the cause of right and the cause of justice, the cause of democracy, backed by superior arms, men and money, is going to fail. And remember that the might and power of this country for which our Allies so fervently pray cannot be thrown fully into the scale until next year.

We have accomplished wonders during our first year of war but we are going to do more wonders in our second year. You cannot expect to crystallize a nation like ours, wedded as we were to profound peace and scorning the thought of war and of any preparation therefore, you can not expect to transform such a nation into a warlike condition in one year. But next year I look for decisive results and I hope we shall all be here to enjoy our triumph.

The program closed, after the stirring address by Admiral Higginson, with a medley of patriotic airs played by Miss Westbrook, and ending with the Star Spangled Banner, in which all present joined in singing. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Hyman Roosa and Mrs. Robert Rodie.

LOAN STIMULATED BY GERMAN DRIVE

Liberty Bond Purchases in Agricultural Regions Show Increase Following News From Front.

American Boys on the Firing Line Make Farmers Realize the Importance of Buying Bonds.

Pershing's message has defeated Germany! When he offered the boys of America to hold back the German hordes he was trumpeting a message that rang through every village, town and hamlet of America. The mere fact that American soldiers were fighting side by side with brave Frenchmen and Britons, that they were dying on the same blood stained fields, awoke the fathers and mothers at home. Their awakening became manifest in the renewed activity in the Third Liberty Loan campaign. In the dairy, fruit and farming districts of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut there was a real increase in bond sales, and this was so because there was hardly a man or woman throughout this district who did not have a son or brother at the front.

Through the columns of the daily papers men and women at home read of the long dusty roads of France crowded with American soldiers marching north. Though the way was arduous and shell pitted, these boys went forward with accoutrements glistening and determined, yet cheerful, faces. The sound of great guns drew nearer and nearer to them. Their opportunity had come, and they welcomed it gladly. Then came the day when the first dispatch told how American troops had arrived at the British front and how enthusiastically the veterans of Great Britain received them. After that came the casualty lists. America was in it at last!

It is a patent fact that the war was not thoroughly driven home to the men and women in the small towns and country. Their boys had gone away, but it was pretty much of a lark. Some even had the lingering expectation, born of hope, that those boys would never see France, would never see the battle lines. France and Great Britain were holding Germany at bay, they thought.

Then with the drive came the knowledge that it was up to America, after all; that the man strength and the money strength of this country would have to be freely thrown into the balance if this war was to prove successful. The man strength was there. America's fathers and mothers had given it. There was nothing to do but back it up with the money strength.

American Boys Fighting.

The German knows no mercy. His bravery is that born of despair. With reckless abandon he throws his compact columns of shock troops against the allied forces, and it is the boys of America who are meeting and desperately combating those ominous gray masses of men.

The fathers know this now. With anxious faces they pore through the lists in the papers, and their one hope is that America will look out for those boys in France. Well, America means them! They are the country, its bulwark and its strength. Preaching patriotism is no use if it is not backed by action, and therefore it is a genuine tribute to the men of the agricultural districts to know that they are putting more zeal into their bond purchases. It means that they have accepted their duty and are tangibly proving their patriotism. Germany may plow through the desecrated towns of France, but she never can plow through the aroused man strength of America. The farmers are fighting now. Read it in their lists of bond sales, casualty lists for the German.

He Got His Coal.

"An ingenious scheme was put through recently by a fairly well-to-do citizen in New York who was at his wits' end to replenish his depleted supply, having been turned down on repeated orders. Putting on an old suit of clothes he made application for a position as coal driver at one of the principal yards in his immediate locality. As there is a great scarcity of help to move coal at present, owing to the rigors of the cold spell, he was accepted without a minute's delay and was intrusted with a cart of coal and also with the bill of the same, on the basis of immediate cash from the customer whose legitimate order had been filled. The self-styled coal driver made remarkably quick time with his load which he straightway deposited in his own cellar. He returned in due course to the coal yard, turned over the cash and forthwith resigned his job as being too arduous for his taste.—Financial America.

Equally Enlightened.

Considerable importance is attached to the opinion of fish dealers in reference to the habits of fish. When they argue that six laws, less rigidly enforced, will assure the supply, men not familiar with the subject at once infer that they ought to know, and probably do know, what they are talking about. It would be equally fair to expect the dealer in cotton goods to know the growth habits of cotton. Fish in storage, so far as the commercial agent is concerned, are the finished product, and it by no means follows that those dependent upon fish for a livelihood seek exact information relative to migration, spawning grounds and other technical data. Ask your dry goods salesman to tell you the life history of cotton, or the peculiarities of boll weevil—in the majority of cases what he says on these subjects will be as trustworthy and convincing as what the fish dealer says about mackerel and redfish.

PARKER—In loving memory of Thomas J. Parker, who departed this life May 3, 1917.

One precious to our hearts has gone, The voice we loved is stilled; The place made vacant in our home, Can never more be filled.

Our Father, in his wisdom called The boon his love had given, And though on earth the body lies, The soul is safe in Heaven.

Long days and nights he bore his pain, We wait for him, but all in vain; 'Till God alone knew what was best, And took him home to give him rest.

We often sit and think of him, When we are all alone, For memory is the only friend That grief can all its own.

The Difference In Shoes!

THE difference between the sort of Shoes we sell and the "Other Sort" will be perfectly apparent to any one who compares our "Good Shoes" with "Just Shoes!"

Our Better Shoes!

Our Shoes are built up to a standard and Not Down to a Price! The result is that our Shoes are more economical than uncertain Shoes:

They wear so much longer and look so much better than "Bargain Shoes," that they are a Better Investment, Dollar for Dollar, than Any Shoes which sell for less money.

The true test of Shoe value is not the First Cost, but the Final Cost—not what they cost Per Pair, but what they cost Per Year. It is upon this simple test of value that the successful growth of our shoe business is based!

BOYS' SHOES!

Boys have a right to wear out three times as many shoes as their fathers and most boys work the concession to the limit!

While we will not say that our boys' shoes will not wear out, we will say that we have done everything in our power, to make the task of wearing them out as difficult as possible.

VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Saturday.

Breakfast—Oatmeal with "shredded" coconut and top milk, hashed brown potatoes, milk gravy, coffee.

Lunch or Supper—Pop corn soufflé, oatmeal bread, preserved cherries.

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

We are so accustomed to thinking of pop corn as a food hit to be eaten between meals with butter and salt, that we overlook many delicious dishes into which it can be incorporated! Pop corn furnishes slightly more energy to the body than cornmeal.

Pop Corn Soufflé

Four cups pop corn hot water 1 cup milk 1 tablespoon oil 1 cup corn meal 1 tablespoon salt 1 egg 1 teaspoon salt.

Put the pop corn (popped) through a meat grinder then cover with enough hot water to soften and let stand until the rest of the soufflé is ready. Make a white sauce of milk, butter and cornstarch, adding the salt, onion and the egg yolk. Add the pop corn to the sauce then fold in the stiffly beaten white of egg. Put into a greased baking dish and set in a pan of water and bake about 40 minutes.

Kedgeroe

One and one-half cups cooked fish, 1 cup cooked rice or other cereal, 4 tablespoons butter salt and pepper to taste 1 tablespoon chopped parsley 2 hard cooked eggs.

Flake the fish removing skin and bones. Wash and boil the rice or use left-over cereal. Melt the butter in a saucepan, add the whites of the eggs chopped the fish and the rice and stir over the fire all together until quite hot. Take care that the mixture does not brown. Season with salt and pepper and pile in a mound on a hot dish. Decorate the sides with hard cooked egg yolks rubbed through a sieve, and the parsley. Serve hot.

Recipes for any of the dishes in these menus which cannot be found in cook books may be had by writing to the Department of Home Economics State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.

Silent Cops Knocked Out.

Thursday two of the silent cops were knocked out by automobiles. The cop at the corner of Broadway and Pine Grove avenue was the first on the casualty list while the second was stationed at Broadway and Henry street. The man who knocked out the first cop reported to police headquarters and will pay for the damage. The one who knocked out the second cop is known and unless the damages are settled for an arrest will follow.

Players Were Entertained.

The ladies of the cast of "Look Out For Paint," the playlet that was presented here and repeated by local talent, treated the gentlemen of the cast to a banquet Tuesday night at St. James's Church. The menu was all that could be desired and the diners did full justice to the tempting repast. The name tags were made of paper and represented a paint pail. The card had the menu printed on it. The affair was of an informal nature.

Ambulance Was Busy.

Thursday afternoon the city ambulance conveyed Mrs. Anna Kirkland from the steamer Odell to the residence of Alderman George Schick on East Chester street. Mrs. Jane Welch was conveyed from 57 Van Buren street to 155 Fair street.

Thursday twenty-two more cases of measles were reported to the board of health. This is the largest number of cases to be reported in one day since the epidemic started. The state health board has sent Miss Helen Cunningham, a trained nurse, here to assist the local health board. Dr. Laidlaw of the state department is also assisting.

BETTER GET YOUR HOSE PERMITS NOW

Sprinkling permits are being issued by the water board at the city hall. The price remains the same as last season, $3. The inspectors of the board have reported a long list of names of people found using the hose who have not secured a permit. In order to avoid any trouble it would be better to get a permit at once. The water board held its regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon but transacted only routine business.

Agrigaphs.

Are you dedicated and consecrated to the success of the U. S.?
There's luck in odd numbers. Make the Third Loan a success.Are you making a plot against Germany? This means a garden plot, of course.
If any farmer wishes to have a soldier furnished for agricultural work he should make application to his local board for the provost marshal general's office, form 1035.

Lending money to Uncle Sam will furnish some folks with their start on a career of thrift and savings. Such a start is the first step in getting somewhere.

Plan to fill your silo to the brim and build another if you can. Dairy-men are just beginning to know that silage is as good in summer as in winter and often can eke out unsatisfactory pasturage.

It is well to remember in these days of increasing building costs that fire insurance which was adequate a few years ago may be woefully inadequate now. It isn't what it cost originally to put up a building that counts in figuring on your insurance, but what it costs to build it now.

Behind in W. S. S. Buying.

Because it has been learned that Ulster county is next to the last county in the state in the purchase of War Savings Stamps, it has been arranged to hold a big mass meeting at the high school auditorium next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. At this meeting, the audience will be addressed by the Hon. William Tully, state director of the movement, sent from Washington. In addition there will be a number of local speakers of note. And they will all be worth hearing. If you are not convinced of the need of purchasing such stamps, it would be well to hear what these men have to say.

Ulster County Medical Meeting.

At the regular meeting of the Ulster County Medical Society held on Tuesday of this week, one of the speakers was Captain S. W. Toms, member of the Medical Reserve Corps, sent here from the medical branch of the army. Captain Toms addressed the physicians present, enthusiastically, and stated that the surgeon general of the army calls for 5,000 army surgeons and 2,000 navy surgeons at once. It is desirable that the volunteers be for the most part about or under forty years of age.

Hit on Head by Block.

Joseph Bush of First avenue was injured Thursday while at work at Rafferty & Feeney's backyard in Ponckhockie. He was working on the ground when a fellow workman on the deck of a barge under construction threw down a block of wood, not knowing that Mr. Bush was below. The block struck him on top of the head, hurling him to the ground. Fortunately he escaped with a bad scalp wound. Dr. C. F. Keefe sewed the wound together.

Beating Them Up.

The carpet beater has been very much in evidence the last few days and many argue that he has not had much other exercise lately are a little lame because of the "beating." A little fellow this morning was industriously beating carpet in a yard on Fair street. He was using a stick that was much larger than he was, and he seemed to be enjoying the strenuous work.

WHAT MAY BE DONE WITH WINTER FRUITS.

We have grapefruit, oranges, lemons, bananas and apples in plenty in most markets the year round. In winter when the fresh berries are lacking there are many dainty ways of using these common fruits.

Banana Salad.—Split bananas in quarters lengthwise and lay on a bed of shredded lettuce. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts and serve with French dressing. Chilled bananas served this way make a tasty dessert, using whipped cream in place of the salad dressing.

Celery and Grapefruit Salad.—Cut the grapefruit in thirds, remove the pulp and cut up with an equal amount of celery. Mix with salad dressing and fill the shells with the mixture, garnish with celery tips or watercress.

Mint and Orange Salad.—Take three tablespoonsful of finely chopped mint, six oranges, the juice of half a lemon and two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar. Remove the pulp from the oranges, mix with the other ingredients and chill. Serve in dainty glasses.

Grapefruit Cocktail.—Cut each grapefruit carefully to resemble a basket, remove the pulp and scallop the edges. Cut the pulp rather fine and mix with canned white cherries, sweetened to taste. Chill and serve in the baskets. Garnish with red cherries. Other fruit combinations may be used if desired.

Orange Salad.—Peel oranges and slice thin, laying them in overlapping slices on an oblong plate, garnish with powdered sugar and candied cherries, or dress with French dressing and garnish with parsley or watercress.

Apple Cups.—Pretty apples scooped out to form cups and refilled with the minced apple with celery and nuts, make a most attractive salad. Any salad dressing may be used. Slice a small piece from the stem, and leaving the stem in for a lifter, then with a sharp spoon scoop out the apple; when filled the lid may be replaced, the apple served on a dolly covered plate. Yellow, green and red apples may be used, or one color is preferred. A cocktail may be served in apple cups or any sauces for meats, making a most dainty receptacle.

The Port and the Pocket.

We are about to withdraw silver from the treasury vaults and ship it to Asiatic countries to pay trade balances, and thus conserve our gold. In some countries we pay our trade balances partly in gold. To some extent individual citizens can help reduce the need for exports of gold and silver by refraining from the purchase of imported articles in the nature of luxuries. When we save on a luxury produced in America, the gain is largely an individual gain; when we save on a luxury produced abroad the saving is national as well as individual. And every little helps.

RAPID ROSE BUYS A LIBERTY BOND

The members of Rapid Rose Company at the meeting held Thursday evening decided to purchase a $300 Liberty Bond. This is an example that other organizations who have not done so already might emulate.

SAUGERTIES.

Saugerties, May 2.—Mrs. Bernard Gordon has returned to her home in Jersey City after a visit with M. S. John Gordon of Dock Street.

Captain W. J. Lackey of the U. S. Ambulance Corps located at Allentown, Pa., is visiting his parents on Washington avenue.

A number of members of Emanuel Chapter, No. 517, O. E. S., will attend Kingston Chapter this evening.

Mrs. George Quick of Ulster avenue is visiting in New York city.

Word was received Thursday of the safe arrival of Edward Reynolds and Michael Hennegan, two of Saugerties boys in the National Army.

Mrs. Ferdinand Warringer and son of Main street are in New York city. Miss Florence Grauber of Montgomery street is attending Moray's Business School in Kingston.

The Navy League met at the home of Mrs. F. E. W. Darrow on Main street this afternoon.

"In Dim, Green Depths."

When this war is over, treasure salvage will be undertaken on a scale beyond the dreams of the most imaginative writers of fiction. The ships that have been sunk will be recovered, or their cargoes removed, by processes not heretofore employed. Wrecks are thick in the war zone and the cargoes are of great value. Huge electro-magnets will raise the immense quantities of iron and steel, suction pumps will draw the coal from the bunkers of the colliers, and perhaps submarines will be materially to undo the havoc other submarines have wrought. But that will be "after the war." Just now we are confronted by the task of putting ships on the sea faster than they can be sunk and cutting the enemy submarine out of business. That is a bigger job than salvaging the treasure—bigger, more important and more profitable.

St. Stephen's College Glee Club.

The St. Stephen's College Glee Club will give an entertainment in Kingston next week, Wednesday evening, May 8, in Holy Cross parish house. Dancing will follow. The glee club comprises practically the same men, who, as the choir of St. Stephen's College Chapel, afforded so much pleasure in their rendering of Gounod's Gallia at Holy Cross Church last Sunday afternoon. The concert, as indicated on the program for Wednesday, will be somewhat different from the usual glee club concert. The affair is advertised as "An (Undress) Rehearsal," but the manager of the club states that this does not mean that Russian or other dances are to be introduced. The college dramatic club is quiescent, owing to war conditions, and some of its best talent has been transferred to the glee club.

New Musical Regime.

St. James's Methodist Church in this city will begin next Sunday a new musical regime. The committee has secured as organist and choir director Professor A. L. Brooks, who is principal of what was formerly the Ulster Academy. The quartet will consist of the following persons, all of whom are from this city: Miss Beatrice Freer, soprano; Mrs. E. S. Morris, contralto; Herman W. LaTour, tenor; John C. Hall, bass. On Saturday night there will be a special musical service, the program containing several most attractive numbers, some of which will be in keeping with the patriotic nature of the service. Dr. Baragwanath will continue his plain talks on War Topics which are proving attractive. The topic on Sunday night will be an exceedingly plain talk on "Christ and the Kaiser."

Cabbages and Kings.

Sauerkraut manufacturers in New York city have appealed to the federal food board to do anything in its power to prevent a prodigious hoard of false patriotism from driving sauerkraut off the American dinner table. They say the objection to this dish arises from its name, and it is desired to have it changed to "Liberty cabbage." Well, sauerkraut by any other name would smell as sweet, but why not call it by its English equivalent, "sour cabbage?" In these throat-parching days, when John Barleycorn is hated with an intensity excelled only by our hatred of the Hun, it would hardly do to call sauerkraut what it really is—fermented cabbage. But "Liberty cabbage." Shades of Madame Roland, who once exclaimed, "O Liberty, Liberty! how many crimes are committed in thy name!"

Police Court Quiet.

SHRINERS GAVE $1,300 TO CHARITY

Kingston Shriners' Association Was Active in Supporting Philanthro-pies During Past Year—Officers Elected At Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Kingston Shriners' Association was held Thursday evening at Schoentag's Hotel at Glasco and was attended by more than sixty members.

Samuel S. Brown was elected president of the association for the present year, Morris Schoenfeld of Saug-erties was elected vice-president, William J. Turek, secretary and treasurer, William H. Van Etten, member of the board of governors.

Following the business session, an elaborate dinner was served by Proprietary Chris Schoentag. Samuel Stern acted as toastmaster and speeches were made by Congressman Charles B. Ward of Liberty, who was a guest of the Association, Philip E. Tung, County Clerk Christopher K. Loughran, William H.
Van Etten and Chris Schoentag.
Congressman Ward spoke of the war and the necessity of financial support of the Government through the purchase of Liberty Loan Bonds, and all the speeches were along patriotic lines.

The annual report showed that during the year the Kingston Shriners' Association has contributed $100 to the Red Cross $300 to the Industrial Home for the purchase of coal $975 to the Industrial Home as the proceeds of the Shriners' Dance, and in addition has purchased Liberty Loan Bonds amounting to $300.

HOW LIBERTY LOAN DOLLARS WIN FIGHTS

American Victory in Toul Sector Cited as an Example by Bond Expert.

At the battle near Toul, France, a few days ago when German shock troops assaulted the Americans in that sector, the United States troops used hand grenades as their most effective weapon. The Americans were the victors in the victory being largely due to the use of grenades.

The government pays $50 for twenty-three hand grenades, or the money derived from the sale of one bond of the smallest denomination.

Five New York state cities had bought $1,682,050 worth of Third Liberty Loan bonds when business was suspended for the week end on April 19. They were: Olean, $194,350; Dunkirk, $262,200; Niagara Falls, $221, 450; Binghamton, $623,800; New Berlin, $80,250. At the cost of hand grenades Olean has paid for 3,987 Dunkirk, 5,244; Niagara Falls 10,429;
Binghamton 12,478; New Berlin,
1,605. This makes a total of 33,641 hand grenades that may be purchased with the money subscribed by only five cities of New York state.

The Liberty Loan campaign will not end until May 4. These cities have two weeks in which to provide more hand grenades for the Americans to use and achieve more victories like that near Toul. Every time a citizen buys one $50 bond he provides for twenty-three grenades, perhaps enough to win a battle. Every thousand dollars additional that Olean, Dunkirk, Niagara Falls, Binghamton and New Berlin contribute to the Liberty Loan means 480 more grenades. If each city does no more than double its present subscription the group will have paid for 67,282 of those weapons that routed the enemy at Toul.

Probably the cities mentioned will be far from satisfied with merely doubling their present subscription when their people realize that the very money loaned by them to the government may result in winning a battle and saving thousands of American soldiers from death on the battlefield.

Refusing to buy Liberty Bonds is one way of saving for the Kaiser.

YANKEE LED LIBERTY FIGHT.

Injured Flier Exacted Heavy Toulon Toll Before Falling

Jim McConnell of the Lafayette
Escadrille had been in the American Ambulance, but Jim wanted to fight and got accepted for the flying corps.
In one of his early flights at the front his machine was damaged by German bullets, and in landing after dark he bumped badly, and his back was injured. For weeks Jim was laid up in the hospital, and his back never did get right. Some days he would be able to stand straight, but the next day would be all bent over like a man with a bad attack of lumbago.

One of the days when he could stand upright Jim went back to the front and got in his machine. It was during the Somme offensive, and Jim was one of the first men to fly low over the opposing lines and clean up the trenches and infantry formations with his machine gun fire. But the Boche got him. They brought him down in their lines with his machine and his body both riddled with bullets.
Jim was one of the Americans who led in the fight for Liberty. He was fighting Germany before America declared war. All America is fighting now, and those who can't go to the front as Jim did can buy Liberty bonds and then go back for more, just as did

Mother's Ingenious Scheme to Secure Respectful Attention From Her Small Boy.

There are small boys who are not very prompt to mind their mothers or who do not give their elders a respectful amount of attention when receiving orders. Yet some of them can be disciplined according to the methods used by an alert mother to whom the war gave the idea.

No longer is she simply mother; she is, indeed, a person of far more importance to her militant young son—she's Captain Mother! Her imaginative boy is Private Billie, and, as he prides himself upon being a good soldier, you can guess that far—of the captain's orders are ignored. Consequently, not only Billie's obedience is a thing to be proud of, but his comprehension and remembrance of orders given are greatly improved, for the captain has told him that he must stand at attention and salute when his name is spoken by a superior officer and that no orders will be given until Private Billie's eyes are fastened upon the captain's with undivided interest.

At the end of the week the private's record is reviewed, not only by the captain but by the family army's chief of staff—father. If the record is approved the captain threads a little metal button upon a ribbon, and, behind: Private Billie receives a decoration for his loyal service to the household and to his superiors. You can readily see how this war play

NUISANCE ALL TOO COMMON

Go ahead, you tickle us. This pipe dream is always putting across some "big deal" expecting a "clean up," "got

His melody goes a buzz this way:
"Well things look merry for me, I'll say. Got in on a deal this morning;
if it goes through, means much Jack.
a 'gas roller' and easy picking for me

Why Japanese Tea is Liked.
One feature which marks tea coming in Japan is the proverbial cleanliness which is characteristic of the Japanese people. The rules of sanitation are strictly observed by the tea growers of Japan. Not only the health and sanitation of workers are strictly examined by local tea associations, but also the process of curing is inspected with great care. Japanese teas have never been artificially colored as have been teas from some other countries.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Birthday Party Tuesday.

On Tuesday evening of this week Miss Edna Boice entertained twenty-three of her friends at her home, No. 55 Lafayette avenue, in honor of her sixteenth birthday. Those present were the Misses Elizabeth Forsyth, Tressa Nichols, Jennie Martine, Grace Haver, Sadie Lockwood, Margaret Van Kuren, Helena Schoonmaker, Morence Gillette, Gladys Silworth, the Misses Floy Brown, John Barton, Vernon Miller, Joseph Netherwood, Jr., Richard Netherwood, Herbert Wolfe, Harold Reynolds, Leo Turner and David Richtmyer and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Netherwood and Mr. Claire of New York city. Many beautiful gifts were received by the hostess. The evening was spent in playing games and piano and violin selections by Miss Nichols, Miss Boice and Mr. Netherwood. After refreshments were served, the guests departed, wishing the hostess many happy returns of the day.

Miss Boyer's Birthday Celebrated.

Walter LeC. Boyer, of the New York board of water supply, gave a dinner at the Stuyvesant Hotel today in honor of his daughter, Marion Hall Boyer. The party consisted of six, the guests besides Miss Boyer being Mrs. Alexander H. McKinney of New York city, Mrs. Sarah Henyon of Kingston, and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Morris of Kingston. Souvenir menu cards, hand painted in water color by Mr. Boyer, furnished a novel feature. The sketches illustrating various outdoor sporting scenes in which the form of Miss Marion appeared prominently. The flowers by Burgevin Brothers were corsage bouquets of sweet peas and carnation and boutonniere. The dedication on the menu read:

To Marion
Let the light of thy countenance radiate joy
About thee all of thy days.
That happiness may follow the trail of thy footsteps
And blessings be upon thee.
"Daddy."

The dinner was faultlessly served in Mrs. Winne's inimitable style, she giving her personal attention to details. In the morning the party took an automobile ride around the Ashokan reservoir. Miss Boyer and her aunt, Mrs. McKinney, are stopping at the Stuyvesant for the week end. The young lady is attending school in New York city, where she is specializing in music, literature and art.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, May 3.—Wednesday evening as Miss Emma Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith of Cantonville on Berne road, below the village, put the saddle and bridle on the new horse purchased the day before and started toward the village. When near the late Ben Geisler place a dog ran out and frightened the horse and it began to run and the horse continued until it reached Market street, when it attempted to make the turn and slipped on the pavement. Miss Smith was thrown from the horse and dragged a short distance, receiving a bad blow over her left eye, a cut lip and was otherwise bruised. She was carried into the Mutual drug store and Dr. Neal dressed her wounds and she was taken home.

The spring pageant given under the direction of Miss Evelyn B. Bailey at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening was a very pleasing entertainment and enjoyed by the large audience attending. About $100 was realized, which goes for the refugee children of France.

Word has been received by his parents of the safe arrival of Edward A. Smith overseas. Edward was the popular clerk at the Ellenville Steam Laundry before he entered the U. S. service.

Proprietors A. J. and P. F. Parr of Mt. Mongolia have purchased the D. D. Hurst property known as Laurel burst on the mountain and will offer the cottage for rent furnished.

Bert H. Terwilliger and family have moved from their Center street residence to Mr. Meenahga for the summer season.

Miss Mildred Hill of Pine Hill is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. John H. Divine.

Mrs. Fred Kramel has returned from a short visit with her son and wife and daughter, Miss Marie Kramel at Newark, N. J.

William Booth, Jr., is spending a few days with her son, Ralph Booth and wife, at Hartford, Conn.

Kerhonsen has doubled in quota in the third Liberty Loan, Napoleon and Cragmoor have far exceeded theirs and Ellenville is expected to go far over the top.

Miss Abby Kite of Philadelphia, the well known Cragmoor resident, and owner of a large boarding house there, has arrived in Ellenville and will spend a few days with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Alford, and will then go to Cragmoor for a short stay as on account of Miss Kite's health other parties will run the summer house this season.

Chief of Police Arch Freer in new uniform entered upon his duties on Wednesday, May 1.

Chester Young has been named to succeed the late George H. Dutcher as a trustee of the Ellenville Savings Bank.

Debate at Clinton Ave. Church.

A debate under the auspices of the Men's Association of Clinton Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church will be held at the church next Wednesday evening, May 8th. The subject will be: "Resolved, that the press is the greater factor in shaping public opinion than the pulpit." Prof. Garrison of School No. 8 will be the leader for the affirmative and Prof. Miner of School No. 6 will be the leader for the negative.

NOTABLE SPEAKERS AT D. A. R. MEETING

The large gathering of members of Wilkes Chapter, D. A. R., at the Chapter House on Thursday afternoon, not only showed the spirit of the daughters in the purchase of Liberty Bonds, but presented to those present two notable local speakers, Dr. George W. Nash of Hurley, and Rear Admiral Higginson of Kingston.

During the business session it was voted to buy two $100 Liberty Bonds, the money for such purchase having been contributed by local and patriotic members of the Chapter.

Two new members were received into the Chapter, having been transferred from the Gansvoort Chapter of Albany: Mrs. Kate Keator Lawrence and Miss Mary Keator Huston. A fine tribute was paid to the memory of the late corresponding secretary of the Chapter, Miss Louise Tremper, whose loyalty and devotion to the Chapter were always so sincere and who was always ready to do her part in serving the Chapter.

In reporting about letters received from soldiers and sailors, Mrs. John Ryder read an especially interesting letter just received from Macdonald Edinger at present not only "Some where in France," but evidently near the front.

In connection with the observance of Decoration Day, Mrs. Ogden Winn and Miss Kate Westbrook were made joint chairmen of a committee to have charge of decorating the graves of soldiers and sailors in this city.

Mrs. Brink and Mrs. Lockwood of Hurley, were made joint chairmen of a committee to perform a like duty in Hurley.

In her report of the historical events of May 2nd Mrs. Wood's historian, now and then broke into verse in referring to events of today as follows:

"Have you heard of the Past Tense Patriot?"

He leans to tell of Paul Revere. His deeds of daring thrill him clear through and through and through.

He bodily fights at Lexington. Mentally, in thought.

But not a single bond, not one. Has he ever bought?"

Again:—"Wilkes Chapter, D. A. R., ever loyal and true.

Has subscribed for Liberty Bonds not a few.

And closing as follows:—"Ours not to reason why. Ours but to save and buy!"

The program for the afternoon which was in charge of Mrs. Ogden Winn and Miss Kate Westbrook, had for its first number, the playing of a medley of patriotic airs, especially requested by Miss Helen Westbrook who delighted her audience to such an extent that she was obliged to respond with an encore.

Dr. Nash's Address.

The first speaker for the afternoon, Dr. George W. Nash of Hurley, introduced, and in view of the present practices of "frightfulness" observed by the Germans, his topic was especially interesting. It was "Some Old Time Methods of Punishment." In opening his able and informing as well as interesting address, Dr. Nash said:

On an early map of New Amsterdam, dated 1650, the very first thing that strikes the eye are two gallows, erected on the shore, at the very edge of the water. One is of the regulation shape, in which one discovers a criminal suffering the death penalty, by hanging. The other is in the shape of a tall mast, from the top of which an arm extends out over the surface of the water. From this arm, three hanes suspended in the air, spreading like a huge spider, some luckless wretch, who is here paying his debt for some infraction of the law, before a crowd assembled below and about the gallows. At some distance in the rear are seen the fort, and the village of the Dutch inhabitants. It would seem from this, that the government, and punishment went hand in hand in the early days and it is to the latter I will ask you to direct your attention this afternoon.

I will say here, however, that it would appear from the early records that the public morals were higher in Dutch New Amsterdam than in the English colonies. One strong fact stands out boldly, there were no witches burned in New Amsterdam. The first century of Dutch life in New Amsterdam did not show any serious manifestation of crime, although the punishment of peccadilloes was begun very early and the simple means of punishing scolds and other petty infractions of the peace could be easily devised and carried out.

A house of detention was not needed for over a hundred years after the settlement came here. Whipping could be administered by the public whipper or by any person willing to accept the job. This latter method was often utilized to put off an old grudge or debt.

Of course in these old days, as is true now, the primary object of punishment was a deterring agency against the commission of crime. It would almost seem, however, from the publicity of such punishment and from the almost spectacular methods of punishment in vogue, that the authorities had in mind something like what we, of a few years ago, listened to with so much amusement, I refer to that well known song, of "Mikado." I will repeat the lines just to recall them quickly to mind:—"My object, all sublime, I shall achieve in time.

To make the punishment fit the crime, the punishment fit the crime. And make each prisoner pent, unwittingly represent.

The double object here expressed was almost as plainly indicated in the early days in this country. To make the punishment fit the crime was one object of course and in many cases, it was seemingly very clearly accomplished. To be sure in some all crime severe punishment. The spectacular methods adopted may not have conducted to any great show of merriment but must have caused considerable diversion and entertainment for the public, which caters so quickly to see what was being done.

A people who took their pleasures roughly would not be apt to be squeamish about the severity or barbarity of their method of punishment. This would apply better, perhaps, to New Amsterdam than elsewhere. On the other hand, people who took their pleasures easily, seemed to find severity of punishment a relief for overburdened souls and the stronger the penalty the greater the relief. This was the situation, perhaps, in Plymouth.

In Colonial times, as is the case now, punishment was not only inflicted for actual crime involving moral turpitude but also for transgression of the various laws, where no moral turpitude was involved, but which communities have enacted for the maintenance of order and for the welfare, comfort and peace of mind.

Under the latter would come even what we do not now have, punishment of people for not thinking as we do, especially in the matter of religious belief, where it was common to persecute, and a few words here about the difference between crime and transgression. (Tells and tells are crimes and are justly punished, spitting on the street and playing ball on Sunday are not crimes but are simply transgressions with penalties attached to them. The old summary laws involved no moral turpitude and yet some of the strongest punishments were enacted by them. Even in Plymouth, where a God-fearing public founded a close religious community, there was need of something more than a guilty conscience for a delinquent. It was found necessary to exert a little physical pressure on the housing of a transgressing soul by means of methods of punishment devised for the purpose. Yet there was a bit of dry humor even then, in the magisterial mind in meting out punishment, for instance: A certain man had been engaged to make a pair of breeches for the punishment of malefactors. Having demanded what the authorities considered a too high price for his work, he was penalized

by being confined in the very stocks he had made, thus being their first occupant. How the magistrate must have smiled inwardly at the conceit or did he take the grafting manufacturer seriously and treat him accordingly?

Dr. Nash then went on in some detail and with many an interesting, humorous or informing anecdote to describe the impositions of fines, the inflictions of mental suffering, with or without physical pain, such as banishment. Again there was physical discomfort, divided by the doctor into three classes: confinement in jail; actual physical suffering; physical suffering with disfigurement. Then came the death penalty and in the old days it was shown that there was still one more punishment for scoldes, wherein after death, the "poor wretch was laid in the grave, a stake was driven through the heart as an added distinct mark of ignominy."

In closing Dr. Nash said: "From all that has been said it may be seen that punishment, a handmaiden of civilization, used her prerogatives in the early history of our country, a rather rough, rude and unsparring hand. Today, however, from the occasional gleams through the clouds and darkness on the nether side of life, it would seem that the same handmaid was using her power less in a correctional and more in an educational manner."

Admiral Higginson's Address.

Following this highly appreciated address, Rear Admiral Higginson, in behalf of the education committee of the Home Defense Committee of "U. S. Navy," spoke to the women present on "Patriotism." After introducing such a talk was scarcely needed by such a group of loyal women, Admiral Higginson divided his subject of "Patriotism" into two groups. Under the first group of community patriotism the speaker included the usual peace-time efforts of child welfare, playground, dance halls for working girls, swimming pools and community centers.

As to the second group, Admiral Higginson spoke as follows:

The larger national patriotism with which our souls are imbued is often latent and unsuspected feeling until brought out by some crisis or catastrophe like the firing on the flag at Fort Sumpter; the blowing up of the Maine; or the sinking of the Lusitania.

When called forth it burns with an intense and more consuming flame than the local variety. We are now all under the influence of such a flame and it is our duty as a community, man, woman and child, to see that like the Vestal Virgins, the lamp of our patriotism is kept burning brightly until our object is accomplished. And what is that object?

Was ever a nation given a more soul-stirring object than the salvation and regeneration of a whole world? How this war we are engaged in dwarfs all other wars which affected us only locally as a nation! Now are we lifted to a higher plane and we fight not only for ourselves but for many a small brother nation and for the cause of human freedom throughout the world. Think what that means! Think what a glorious mission it is to be able to bring freedom, peace and protection from aggression to so many millions of our fellow beings! Think of the children yet unborn who will bless us of this generation for securing to them the right to live their own lives in their own way as the children of today bless or should bless, the veterans of the Civil War who secured for them the blessings of a nation and free country. This tremendous task which we have undertaken and which under God's providence we are going to see through to our last man and our last dollar, this purification by fire will by its holy sacrifices lift us all to a higher plane of thought and a higher spiritual level and will leave to future generations a legacy of imperishable glory.

I implore you all to cultivate a cheerful optimism about the final result of the war. However unfavorable the course of events may seem or however long the agony of conflict may be drawn out, do not, I beg of you, allow yourselves to doubt for a moment that the cause of right and the cause of justice, the cause of democracy, backed by superior arms, men and money, is going to fail. And remember that the might and power of this country for which our Allies so fervently pray cannot be thrown fully into the scale until next year.

We have accomplished wonders during our first year of war but we are going to do more wonders in our second year. You cannot expect to crystallize a nation like ours, welded as we were to profound peace and seining the thought of war and of any preparation therefore, you cannot expect to transform such a nation into a warlike condition in one year. But next year I look for decisive results and I hope we shall all be here to enjoy our triumph.

The program closed, after the stirring address by Admiral Higginson, with a medley of patriotic airs played by Miss Westbrook, and ending with the Star Spangled Banner, in which all present joined in singing. The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Hyman Reosa and Mrs. Robert Rodie.

Company M Plans Smoker.

LOAN STIMULATED BY GERMAN DRIVE

Liberty Bond Purchases in Agricultural Regions Show Increase Following News From Front.

American Boys on the Firing Line
Make Farmers Realize the Importance of Buying Bonds.

Pershing's message has defeated Germany! When he offered the boys of America to hold back the German hordes he was trumpeting a message that rang through every village, town and hamlet of America. The mere fact that American soldiers were fighting side by side with brave Frenchmen and Britons, that they were dying on the same blood stained fields, awoke the fathers and mothers at home. Their awakening became manifest in the renewed activity in the Third Liberty Loan campaign. In the dairy, fruit and farming districts of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut there was a real increase in bond sales, and this was so because there was hardly a man or woman throughout this district who did not have a son or brother at the front.

Through the columns of the daily papers men and women at home read of the long dusty roads of France crowded with American soldiers marching north. Though the way was arduous and shell pitted, these boys went forward with accoutrements jingling and determined, yet cheerful faces. The sound of great guns drew nearer and nearer to them. Their opportunity had come, and they welcomed it gladly. Then came the day when the first dispatch told how American troops had arrived at the British front and how enthusiastically the veterans of Great Britain received them. After that came the casualty lists. America was in it at last!

It is a patent fact that the war was not thoroughly driven home to the men and women in the small towns and country. Their boys had gone away, but it was pretty much of a lark. Some even had the lingering expectation, born of hope, that those boys would never see France, would never see the battle lines. France and Great Britain were holding Germany at bay, they thought.

Then with the drive came the knowledge that it was up to America, after all; that the man strength and the money strength of this country would have to be freely thrown into the balance if this war was to prove successful. The man strength was there. America's fathers and mothers had given it. There was nothing to do but back it up with the money strength.

American Boys Fighting.

The German knows no mercy. His reckless abandon he throws his compact columns of shock troops against the allied forces, and it is the boys of America who are meeting and desperately combating those ominous gray masses of men.

The fathers know this now. With anxious faces they pore through the lists in the papers, and their one hope is that America will look out for those boys in France. Well, America means them! They are the country, its bulwark and its strength. Preaching patriotism is no use if it is not backed by action, and therefore it is a genuine tribute to the men of the agricultural districts to know that they are putting more zeal into their bond purchases. It means that they have accepted their duty and are tangibly proving their patriotism. Germany may plow through the desecrated towns of France, but she never can plow through the aroused man strength of America. The farmers are fighting now. Read it in their lists of bond sales, casualty lists for the German.

He Got His Coal.

Through recently by a fairly well-to-do citizen in New York who was at his wits' end to replenish his depleted coal supply, having been turned down on repeated orders. Putting on an old suit of clothes he made application for a position as coal driver at one of the principal yards in his immediate locality. As there is a great scarcity of help to move coal at present, owing to the rigors of the cold spell, he was accepted without a minute's delay and was intrusted with a cart of coal and also with the bill of the same, on the basis of immediate cash from the customer whose legitimate order had been filled. The self-styled coal driver made remarkably quick time with his load which he straightway deposited in his own cellar. He returned in due course to the coal yard, turned over the cash and forthwith resigned his job as being too arduous for his taste.—Financial America.

Equally Enlightened.

Considerable importance is attached to the opinion of fish dealers in reference to the habits of fish. When they argue that six laws, less rigidly enforced, will assure the supply, men not familiar with the subject at once infer that they ought to know, and probably do know, what they are talking about. It would be equally fair to expect the dealer in cotton goods to know the growth habits of cotton. Fish in storage, so far as the commercial agent is concerned, are the finished product, and it by no means follows that those dependent upon fish for a livelihood seek exact information relative to migration, spawning grounds and other technical data. Ask your dry goods salesman to tell you the life history of cotton, or the peculiarities of boll weevil—in the majority of cases what he says on these subjects will be as trustworthy and convincing as what the fish dealer says about mackerel and redfish.

Four Minute Men to Speak.

Kingston's Four Minute Men will continue their speaking campaign in the local theatres this evening and will make four minute addresses in the interests of the Third Liberty Loan. They spoke Thursday evening and their remarks were listened to with close attention and received with applause.

BETTER GET YOUR ROSE PERMITS NOW

Sprinkling permits are being issued by the water board at the city hall. The price remains the same as last season, $3. The inspectors of the board have reported a long list of names of people found using the hose who have not secured a permit. In order to avoid any trouble it would be better to get a permit at once. The water board held its regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon but transacted only routine business.

Agriculture.
Are you dedicated and consecrated to the success of the U. S.?

There's luck in odd numbers. Make the Third Loan a success.

Are you making a plot against Germany? This means a garden plot, of course.

If a farmer wishes to have a soldier furnished for agricultural work he should make application to his local board for the protest marshal general's office, form 1035.

Leading money to Uncle Sam will furnish some folks with their start on a career of thrift and savings. Such a start is the first step in getting somewhere.

It is well to remember in these days of increasing building costs that fire insurance which was adequate a few years ago may be woefully inadequate now. It isn't what it cost originally to put up a building that counts in figuring on your insurance, but what it costs to build it now.

Behind in W. S. S. Buying.
Because it has been learned that Ulster county is next to the last county in the state in the purchase of War Savings Stamps, it has been arranged to hold a big mass meeting at the high school auditorium next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. At this meeting, the audience will be addressed by the Hon. William F. Murphy, state director of the movement, sent from Washington. In addition there will be a number of local speakers of note. And they will all be worth hearing. If you are not convinced of the need of purchasing such stamps, it would be well to hear what these men have to say.

Ulster County Medical Meeting.
At the regular meeting of the Ulster County Medical Society held on Tuesday of this week, one of the speakers was Captain S. W. Toms, member of the Medical Reserve Corps, sent here from the medical branch of the army. Captain Toms addressed the physicians present, enthusiastically, and stated that the surgeon general of the army calls for some army surgeons and 2,000 navy surgeons at once. It is desirable that the volunteers, be for the most part about or under forty years of age.

Hit on Head by Block.
Joseph Bush of First avenue was injured Thursday while at work at Rafferty & Peeney's boardwalk in Ponckhockie. He was working on the ground when a fellow workman on the deck of a barge under construction threw down a block of wood, not knowing that Mr. Bush was below. The block struck him on top of the head, hurting him to the ground. Fortunately he escaped with a bad scalp wound. Dr. C. F. Keefer sewed the wound together.

Beating Them Up.
The carpet beater has been very much in evidence the last few days and many arms that have not had much other exercise lately are a little lame because of the "beating." A little fellow this morning was industriously beating carpet in a yard on Fair street. He was using a stick that was much larger than he was, and he seemed to be enjoying the strenuous work.

WHAT MAY BE DONE WITH WINTER FRUITS.

We have grapefruit, oranges, lemons, bananas and apples in plenty in most markets the year round. In winter when the fresh berries are lacking there are many dainty ways of using these common fruits.

Banana Salad.—Split bananas in quarters lengthwise and lay on a bed of shredded lettuce. Sprinkle with finely chopped nuts and serve with French dressing. Chilled bananas served this way make a tasty dessert, using whipped cream in place of the salad dressing.

Celery and Grapefruit Salad.—Cut the grapefruit in thirds, remove the pulp and cut up with an equal amount of celery. Mix with salad dressing and fill the shells with the mixture, garnish with celery tips or watercress.

Mint and Orange Salad.—Take three tablespoonsful of finely chopped mint, six oranges, the juice of half a lemon and two tablespoonsful of powdered sugar. Remove the pulp from the oranges, mix with the other ingredients and chill. Serve in dainty glasses.

Grapefruit Cocktail.—Cut each grapefruit carefully to resemble a basket, remove the pulp and scallop the edges. Cut the pulp rather fine and mix with canned white cherries, sweetened to taste. Chill and serve in the baskets. Garnish with red cherries. Other fruit combinations may be used if desired.

Orange Salad.—Peel oranges and slice thin, laying them in overlapping slices on an oblong plate, garnish with powdered sugar and candied cherries, or dress with French dressing and garnish with parsley or watercress.

Apple Cups.—Pretty apples scooped out to form cups and refilled with the minced apple with celery and nuts, make a most attractive salad. Any salad dressing may be used. Slice a small piece from the stem, and leaving the stem in for a handle, then with a sharp spoon scoop out the apple; when filled the lid may be replaced, the apple served on a dolly covered plate. Yellow, green and red apples may be used, or one color is preferred. A cocktail may be served in apple cups or any sauces for meats, making a most dainty receptacle.
